Wilson Nips U.K. Buyers

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Wilson today called for an immediate freeze in wages, salaries and prices in an effort to save the pound sterling and pull the country out of its economic crisis.

He imposed higher taxes that will affect Britons as a whole, from beer-drinkers to motorists and from big income-earners to modest householders.

He also slashed the government's spending at home and abroad.

Under the emergency measures, which impressed many bankers including those in Europe, wages, salaries and prices are to be frozen for six months and severely restricted thereafter for another six months.

Wilson said the government, in another cost-cutting measure,

Canadians Heave Sigh Of Relief

There was no announcement of any freeze on imports. Canadian officials said this was heartening for Canadian exporters, although the deflation measures, to save Britain's diminishing supply of foreign currency and gold, will reduce the buoyant British market for a wide range of goods.

Under the emergency measures, the down-payment on new automobiles goes up from the previous 25 per cent to a new high of 40 per cent, and the time-to-repay held to a maximum of 24 months. The down-payment on furniture will be 20 per cent and on most other consumer goods 33 1/3 per cent.

All purchase taxes go up by an immediate 10 per cent. That means the buyer of a new automobile who previously paid the purchase tax of 25 per cent now will have to pay 27 1/2 per cent. The same increase applies on motorcycles, a popular British vehicle.

The man who loves his pub will find it more expensive. Duties on beer, wine and spirits go up by an immediate 10 per cent.

There will be increases in postal and telegraph charges. Starting next November the holiday-makers will find their £250 ($750) vacation allowance

Canada At Request Of U.S. Makes Plea To North Vietnam

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada at the request of the United States approached the North Vietnamese government July 18 about threats to try U.S. airmen as war criminals. External Affairs Minister Martin said today.

However, it is understood there was no visible result and Canadian officials cannot say whether the move did any good.

Martin, here to attend a foreign-aid conference, said in a statement that the U.S. had asked Canada and several other countries to "intercede in Hanoi on their behalf."

"The representations were based both on humanitarian grounds and on grounds of the potential implications of actions contemplated with respect to U.S. prisoners," Martin said.

He said Canada's acting permanent representative in Hanoi, a Maj. Watson, communicated

Ninth Nurse Sees Accused In Chicago's Mass Murder

CHICAGO (AP) — The dark-haired nurse looked at the man accused of killing eight of her friends.

Richard Speck, 24, was in a bed at the city jail hospital, pale from the blood he had lost through self-inflicted cuts in his arms.

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse Tuesday.

Was he the man who had managed to subdue, gag, blind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?

Corazon Amuro, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune both say Miss Amuro identified Speck as the intruder.

DECLINE COMMENT

However, the state's attorney's office refused information on the confrontation or comment on the reports.

Dr. William N. Norcross, the city jail physician, said in a medical bulletin that Speck may have suffered a heart attack

Bad Drought Hits Toronto Blood Bank

TORONTO (CP) — A blood drought has hit Toronto, a Red Cross official said Tuesday, and surgery will have to be postponed at city hospitals if blood donors don't come forward immediately. She said blood reserves in the city are down to 60 units of 2.3 pint each. The official blamed the shortage on hot weather.

Hellyer Makes Pledge: 'Merger Will Be Aired'

OTTAWA (CP)—A pledge that service unification will not start without parliamentary approval was given by Defence Minister Hellyer in his shuffle of the navy's top echelon.

This was disclosed today after Mr. Hellyer replaced one admiral opposed to the armed forces unification program and said he doesn't expect any further "revolts" among top brass in the senior service.

Mr. Hellyer told a press conference Tuesday he had appointed Rear-Admiral John C. O'Brien, 47, stepped up from the rank of commodore, as head of

RCMP Constable Badly Beaten Chasing 7 Escaped Convicts

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Reg Rowett of Vancouver, mother of RCMP constable Donald Rowett, left Tuesday to be at the bedside of her son, critically beaten when attacked by five escaped prisoners.

Constable Rowett, 30, suffered severe head injuries when beaten Sunday while searching for five armed prisoners who escaped from the Regina Correctional Institute.

Mrs. Rowett said he son had been trying to get compassionate leave to return to Vancouver to look after his three young children. Rowett's wife died in childbirth a month ago.

At Norquay, Sask., the sixth of seven men who escaped from the Correctional Institute Sunday and led RCMP on a 150-mile chase to this area was recaptured early today.

Quake Causes Panic

AGRIGENTO, Sicily (AP) — With 5,000 persons already homeless, a new landslide fleeing in panic today from Agrigento. A slow earthquake continued after partly wrecking the southwest third of the city, on a hill three miles inland from Sicily's south coast.

Chlorine Opposed

KIMBERLEY (CP) — Mayor H. W. Buckle said today this city of 6,000 is solidly against adding chlorine to the fluoride in their "pure" water. The mayor was speaking in answer to Dr. J. M. H. Hopper, medical health officer, who said polluted drinking water is suspected as the cause for two confirmed cases of typhoid fever in Kimberley. He suggested the water be chlorinated.

Union Studies Terms

TRAIL (CP)—Members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.U.M.S.W.) will meet here tonight to study terms of agreement reached by Cominco Ltd. and union negotiators Monday.

Admiral Landymore, who had a talk here today with Gen. Jean V. Allard, chief of the defence staff, said in an interview afterward:

"I have no undertaking that when unification is before the House of Commons that it will have the opportunity to be fully aired but I am confident there will be no legislation that will not be very fully examined."

He added that Gen. Allard would be releasing a message outlining the position he took. Gen. Allard had been "fully alerted" to present conditions, Admiral Landymore added.

"I am certain he will take all the necessary steps so that none of his commanders will have to live with a situation that can't be disclosed, discussed and corrected."

Mr. Hellyer also told his Tuesday press conference he has accepted the request of Rear-Admiral M. G. Stirling, deputy commander of Maritime Command and commander of the Pacific fleet, that he be retired.

Admiral Stirling said publicly he cannot accept government policy if it leads to armed forces unification.

Saigon Sends PoWs Home

BEN HAI, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—The South Vietnamese government today repatriated 13 North Vietnamese prisoners-of-war to mark the 12th anniversary of the signing of the Geneva agreements which partitioned the country.

The prisoners were captured in battle in the south within the last year. Although identified as North Vietnamese soldiers—and admitting it themselves—they are not recognized as such by Hanoi, which denies having sent any troops into the south.

This is the second batch of prisoners to be repatriated this year. To mark the Vietnamese New Year festival, the government allowed 21 prisoners to cross the White River Bridge in January.

DEATH STRIKES IN P.Q.

Bombings Scrutinized

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal police anti-terrorist squad, the RCMP and Quebec Provincial Police have joined forces to investigate recent bombings in Montreal and Magog, Que., which killed two persons and injured several others, a Montreal police spokesman said Tuesday night.

Police said one man held for questioning in last Thursday's bomb death of Jean Corbo, 16, at a Dominion Textile Co. plant in Montreal probably will be released today.

Corbo was killed when a bomb he was carrying exploded in his hands beside the west-end plant.

Police say they still are searching for a link between his death and a bombing death in the city last May.

Police said they may be able to connect the Montreal explosions with two bombings last weekend at the homes of Dominion Textile officials at Magog, 85 miles southeast of Montreal. No one was injured in these explosions.

FOUR PLANTS AFFECTED

Dominion Textile plants in Magog and three other Quebec centres have been on strike since early spring but the Montreal plant owned by the same company has not been involved in the walkout.

Police have posted a guard at the Magog factory following a threat to blow up the company's 600,000-gallon oil storage tank.

The threat came in a telephone call from a woman to municipal police headquarters late Monday and brought the first direct intervention by police in the Magog strike.

Workers on picket lines did not interfere as officers assigned to guard duty became the first to enter the factory since it was shut down when the dispute started last April.

Police said the potential danger to lives and property forced them to take action, although they have attempted to remain neutral in the strike.

In Montreal, police said they are almost certain the persons who ordered the recent bombings were members of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, were earning an average $1.79 an hour when the strike started. They seek an increase of 39 cents an hour in a 28-month pact. The company has offered 27 cents in a three-year contract.

The 120 La Grenade employees, who have been on strike for more than a year, are also members of a C.N.T.U.-affiliated union. They seek an hourly increase in wages of 15 cents to the old base rate of 73 cents to $1.90.

in the La Grenade strike.

Talks aimed at settling the Dominion Textile strike in Magog, Sherbrooke, Drummondville and Montmorency continued here.

The 5,000 textile workers involved, members of unions affiliated with the Confederation of National Trade Unions, were earning an average $1.79 an hour when the strike started. They seek an increase of 39 cents an hour in a 28-month pact. The company has offered 27 cents in a three-year contract.

The 120 La Grenade employees, who have been on strike for more than a year, are also members of a C.N.T.U.-affiliated union. They seek an hourly increase in wages of 15 cents to the old base rate of 73 cents to $1.90.

Stroll In Space Given All-Clear

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) Gemini 10 pilot Michael Collins was flashed an "all clear" today to stroll into space on a 50-foot lifeline and work with a "dead bird" target satellite left over from last March.

Using fuel from their own Agena space engine to make up some of the shortage of Gemini 10, command pilot John W. Young and Collins sped toward their distant target, expecting to catch up with it and begin Collins' space stroll at 6:56 p.m. EDT.

Space officials apparently decided the pungent gas that caused the Gemini twins' eyes to water during a 45-minute space stand Tuesday could be controlled.

The crew awoke about 8 a.m. after nine hours of sleep.

Young, a navy commander, and Collins, an air force major, were told to use a secondary propulsion system in their Agena to change their orbital plane and adjust their height so they could jockey into position to rendezvous with the old satellite.

Flight officials on the ground continued studying the problems of low fuel and smarting eyes as the astronauts spun 240 miles above the earth.

The eyes of both astronauts watered and became irritated Tuesday while Collins conducted experiments with the hatch open, the upper half of his body thrust into space.

CAN'T SEE

Neither could see, and Collins was forced to end the exercise after 45 minutes, about 25 minutes early.

Lithium hydroxide, a chemical used to remove carbon dioxide from the cabin environmental control system, may have been responsible.

P.Q. Hospitals Grow Tense

MONTREAL (CP) — Direct labor-management negotiations resumed in the Quebec hospitals strike, following a week when talks were carried on separately by each side by a mediator.

The direct dealing began Tuesday night after reports circulated in Montreal that the government-appointed mediator, Yves Pratte, may make a wage-package suggestion for the 32,500 non-medical employees who began striking against 130 hospitals across Quebec July 15.

Meantime, provincial health department officials reported the atmosphere on picket lines thrown around the affected hospitals by the National Federation of Services seems to be growing tenser.

The Quebec Red Cross formally offered to provide aid for the shortage of strikers in the hospitals until the current dispute is ended.

The offer, made to Health Minister Jean-Paul Cloutier, was acknowledged by him "with satisfaction" although he did not say when or how the services would be used.

WANT TO HELP

The St. John Ambulance Association, members of which were turned back at picket lines in at least one instance, asked the Confederation of National Trade Unions to discuss with association officials how the St. John volunteers can enter the hospitals "before a fatal crisis hits the affected institutions."

The problem cleared by the time the astronauts went to sleep at 11 p.m. EST but officials were concerned that perhaps it would recur when the hatch again was opened for the space walk.

If all goes well today, the astronauts were to break off from the Agena about 2 p.m. and start closing in on another Agena left in orbit last March by the Gemini 8 astronauts.

Hitchhiking under the power of their own Agena the Gemini 10 crew had first soared to a record altitude for manned flight at an orbital high point of 476 miles, then pulled back down close to 240 miles, just seven miles below the path of the old Agena.

Gas-Powered Propellant Gun Used

They are to rendezvous within a few feet of Agena 8 around 5 p.m., and Collins is to step outside about an hour later. He'll use a gas-powered hand gun to propel himself to Agena 8 to conduct experiments.

Young and Collins have expended considerably more spacecraft fuel than intended.

Instead of having 70 per cent of their 940-pound fuel supply remaining, they were down to 35 per cent. As a result, they curtailed many scientific and technological experiments.

By using the Agena engine for the manoeuvres that set them up for the rendezvous with Agena 8, the astronauts conserved their fuel.

Schneider reported Tuesday night Gemini 10 had 375 pounds of propellant remaining. He estimated that under normal conditions, 155 to 255 pounds would be required for the Agena 8 chase.

But this may not be enough, based on the fuel required for the earlier rendezvous.

Agena 8 will be especially difficult to track down because it has no battery power, lights or radar transponder as did Agena 10.

When Young reported their eye trouble, they were ordered to switch to a high-flow oxygen system, which cleansed the suit and cabin environmental control systems, shutting off the supply of lithium hydroxide, which has an odor similar to ammonia.

Gemini 10 plans to return to earth Thursday, landing in the western Atlantic about 500 miles east southeast of Cape Kennedy at 4:07 p.m.

No Accident, Claim Dutch In Case Of Dead Chinese

THE HAGUE (Reuters) — Dutch police said today that a Chinese engineer whose body was spirited out of a hospital by other Chinese, and then re-staff sent for a hearing.

When the body arrived at Ockenburg Crematorium on the city outskirts, it was seized on the orders of the public prosecutor.

FOUND ALIVE ON STREET

The case arose after Hsu was found lying—badly injured but still alive—on the street last Saturday night, several hundred yards from the charge d'affaires offices.

He was taken to hospital at his own request—but was snatched from a stretcher and whisked off without hospital knowledge in a car bearing a diplomatic corps registration plate, the Dutch said.

Police said that after taking into account the statements made by the doctor and the behavior of the Chinese, they did not believe Hsu—who died Sunday—was injured accidentally.

Tuesday night the diplomatic staff sent for a hearing.

B.C. Shows Healthy Balance In Trading Says Loffmark

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia continued to show a healthy balance of trade during 1965 despite a slight decline in exports, Trade Minister Loffmark said Tuesday.

In his department's annual preliminary statement of external trade through B.C. customs ports, export values totaled $1,623,004,673 compared with $1,624,604,070 in 1964.

Imports through B.C. customs ports last year rose 17 per cent over their 1964 value to $661,000,000.

Reduced wheat shipments offset increased exports of forest and mineral products which were well above 1964 levels, the 238-page report stated.

Major export increases occurred in coal, crude petroleum, natural gas, wood pulp, lumber, paper and paperboard.

The report said part of the increased imports was the result of a need for engineering equipment and materials by the province's hydro developments, pulp and paper projects and other investments.

Imports of food, personal and household equipment and automobiles also increased.

20 Teenagers Held At Coast

VANCOUVER (CP) — Twenty teenagers were taken into custody Tuesday night as a crowd of 3,000 nearly got out of control twice during a performance of the singing group Rolling Stones.

Police Inspector Bud Errington, who stopped the show at the Pacific National Exhibition forum at one stage while the crowd was got under control, said some charges may be laid today.

The show was stopped for 10 minutes. When it was resumed a group of teenagers broke through police ranks and tried to rush the stage.

Police, three of whom lost their hats and another his tie, said three youngsters were in danger of being crushed between the crowd and a guardrail before the stage.

Twenty windows were broken before the performance by youths who tried to get into the building from the rear.

"There was a definite danger that someone might have been killed if that crowd had really stormed the stage," Inspector Errington said.

B.C.'s Home-Buyer Grant May Be $500, Say Realtors

Real estate spokesmen in Vancouver believe the B.C. government's proposed home-buyers grant will have a maximum of $500 and be based on the number of years an applicant has been renting. They said Tuesday they received their information from government sources. Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell declined to confirm or deny the report, saying only no means tests will be required and the plan will be called the Home Purchase Plan. Premier Bennett announced the plan some time ago but gave no details.

Singer Frank Sinatra, 50, and actress Mia Farrow, 21, were married Tuesday in a Las Vegas ceremony attended by a few friends. Sands Hotel President Jack Entratter, a friend of Sinatra, gave the bride away. After the ceremony, Sinatra, his bride and Entratter walked out on to the porch of their wedding suite. "I think I handled it pretty good," Sinatra said, putting his arm around the bride, who is a star of the television series Peyton Place.

Rev. Ian Paisley, leader of Northern Ireland Protestant extremists, will go to jail in Belfast today rather than obey a court order to keep the peace. Tuesday, the self-styled moderator of the breakaway 3,000-member Free Presbyterian Church of Ulster was fined $30 ($60) for unlawful assembly in connection with religious rioting here June 6. He was given 24 hours to decide whether to go to prison for three months or agree to keep the peace for two years.

Dr. Jacques Gelin, Quebec's deputy health minister, said Tuesday there is no definite proof cobaltous salts in beer were responsible for the deaths of 18 beer-drinkers in the Quebec City area, disclosed last March. The federal cabinet has banned use of cobaltous salts as a beer additive. All Canadian brewers voluntarily stopped using them four months ago and the United States imposed a ban last month to that effect.

MARGARETA ARVIDSSON
... winner's wink

The Globe and Mail says the government will be exonerated for its handling of the George Victor Spencer case in the report of Mr. Justice Dickson. The newspaper says "the report is understood to find that the former Vancouver postal worker did, as alleged by the government, engage in Soviet espionage activity."

Larry Anders, 29, described in court as the kingpin in illicit LSD traffic in Vancouver, was given a three-month prison term and fined $500 Tuesday. He pleaded guilty to six counts of violating the federal Food and Drug Act. It is believed the first time a person has been convicted in Canada on charges involving trafficking in LSD.

The body of Colin Howard Baker of Nelson was recovered Monday from Kootenay Lake. Police in Nelson believed Baker stumbled when walking along the beach and struck his head when he fell into the water.

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Four persons escaped with minor injuries Tuesday when three cars collided, one bursting into flames and the other hanging over a 150-foot cliff.

NAMED MANPOWER CHIEF VANCOUVER (CP)—L. Stewart McGill, 48, former industrial relations director of Columbia Cellulose Ltd., has been named Pacific director of the federal government's new manpower division, it was announced Tuesday.

CHARGES DISMISSED VANCOUVER (CP)—Richard E. Swanson, 23, broke down and cried in court Tuesday after criminal negligence charges against him were dismissed. He was charged in the death of Bonnie McLean, 21, killed when a car overturned while negotiating a turn in Stanley Park. After hearing police testimony that the car was dangerous, magistrate James Bartman dismissed the charges.

PROMOTED VANCOUVER (CP)—Twelve police detectives were promoted to sergeant Tuesday by the Police Commission in an effort to streamline police squad supervision. Deputy Chief John Fisk said: "We felt more supervision was required in the detective division." The new sergeants will be responsible to present staff sergeants heading each squad.

BIG MEDALLION SALE VICTORIA (CP)—The B.C. Centennial Committee said Tuesday more than 200,000 copies of a special centennial medallion have been sold. The medallion commemorates the union of Vancouver Island and the mainland in 1866.

SET DEADLINE The headquarters of the Federated Shop Craft Group in Montreal Tuesday set Aug. 22 as the deadline for strike ballots mailed to union locals across Canada. The group, comprised of boilermakers, machinists, carmen, pipefitters, electricians, moulders and metal workers employed by the CNR, CPR and six smaller railways, now receives an average $2.20 hourly.

Elsewhere in Canada, a strike of 1,500 employees of Quebec Cartier Mining Co. at Port Cartier and Gagnonville which started July 4 was settled Tuesday. The agreement met the demands of the local involved an affiliate of the steelworkers. About 650 bus drivers of the Quebec Provincial Transport Co. were to meet today to consider a dispute which a spokesman said could turn into a strike.

In British Columbia, a small local of the International Woodworkers of America representing lumber inspectors set an Aug. 16 strike deadline in a wage dispute. A strike could tie up 80 per cent of the coastal industry. The 271 lumber inspectors want a five-cent hourly increase on a present base rate of $3.12 an hour in a one-year contract.

Boat Driver Faces Charge

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A sawmill worker was charged here Tuesday with criminal negligence in the death of a boy who was struck by a boat on nearby Bednest Lake. Marc Beaulieu, 13, of Bednest Lake died in hospital three hours after he was hit by the boat as he swam in the lake. Gerard Joseph Marquis was to appear in court here July 28 on the charge.

A New Day, A New Admiral Rules Over RCN-RCAF Waves

HALIFAX (CP)—A white flag bearing a red cross and two small red discs was raised over the naval dockyard here today, signalling the return of a naval officer to the top job in Canada's 21,000-man integrated sea defence force.

Rear-Admiral J. C. O'Brien, 47, a witty, white-thatched veteran of 29 years in the navy, assumed leadership of the RCN-RCAF Maritime Command after the role was filled for one day by Air Commodore Ralph Gordon.

Air Commodore Gordon was put in command briefly while Admiral O'Brien was in Ottawa for talks with Defence Minister Hellyer. Mr. Hellyer dismissed Rear-Admiral William Landymore, the former Maritime commander, for openly criticizing unification plans for the armed services.

Admiral O'Brien, whose appointment carries with it a promotion from commodore took over an office vacated 24 hours earlier by Admiral Landymore, 50, who was given a warm farewell by 5,000 navy and civilian dockyard personnel Tuesday morning.

Admiral O'Brien's command covers and submarine units, including naval ships and planes and RCAF aircraft—on both the East and West coast. Air Commodore Gordon will remain as the No. 2 man in the command.

FLAG RAISED The air commodore's flag—the RCAF Roundel—was raised Tuesday as Admiral Landymore's flag was lowered by two ratings. The Roundel, rarely flown atop the command's red-brick headquarters near the harbor, was to be lowered to dockyard personnel Tuesday morning.

The new commander, born in Montreal, joined the navy in 1937. From 1940-44, he served aboard destroyers escorting convoys of merchant ships across the Atlantic. He rose to command several ships, including the aircraft carrier Bonaventure, and prior to his new appointment was senior naval officer afloat.

Veteran colleagues say he's had the nickname Scruffy for at least 20 years, but it's origin isn't definite. One of his former commanders suggested that it was prompted by Admiral O'Brien's personal immaculate dress and insistence that others do the same.

"He's a real Dapper-Dan," said one veteran officer.

Admiral O'Brien arrived at the navy's nearby Shearwater air station from Ottawa Tuesday night. He appeared tired and aides said he would have no comment for reporters until his noon press conference today. The 21,000 officers and men of the Maritime Command comprise 16,000 naval personnel and 5,000 air force personnel.

SCHOOL BOARDS Called 'Tools'

VANCOUVER (CP)—School boards across Canada are the tools of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and big business interests, the president of the Vancouver Labor Council charged Tuesday.

Paddy Neale told a council meeting that students about to graduate are addressed by bank managers and businessmen, who tell them "there is no need for trade unions when you get out of school."

Mr. Neale sought, and obtained, council support for Burnaby school board, which refused to authorize distribution in schools of two chamber of commerce booklets entitled "Economics, Freedom and You," and "What About Profits."

AQUACADE CROWDS GETTING LARGER

About 400 people turned up at the Aquacade Tuesday to witness a large variety of events presented every week in Kelowna's Aquacade. Diving exhibitions, life-saving demonstrations and apple-box races are part of the entertainment provided every Tuesday by members of Kelowna's Ogopogo Swim team.

Magistrate Busy In Past 91 Days

A total of 1,720 cases were handled by Magistrate D. M. White in adult court in the period April 1 to June 30.

Of the total 1,511 were offences committed within the city and 209 were district cases.

Fines collected on city cases totalled $15,115 and for the district $4,955.

In city cases, 16 jail sentences were imposed and six sentences suspended. In the district there were four jail sentences and one suspended sentence.

The largest group of city offences were for over-parking—1,274 cases and $3,387 collected in fines.

In addition to the parking offences, there were 74 other offences under city bylaws. A total of 174 cases were laid under the Motor Vehicle Act, 41 under the Criminal Code, 38 under the government Liquor Act and 48 under federal government acts.

Retired City Naval Officer Enters Firing Controversy

The dismissal of Rear-Admiral William Landymore for publicly criticizing government policy on the unification of Canada's armed forces has prompted the wrath of a retired Kelowna navy officer.

J. R. Young, now president of the Kelowna branch of the Navy League of Canada wrote the following letter to the assistant national secretary of the Navy League, W. J. Hodges. He attacks government policy on unification and Admiral Landymore's dismissal.

"It is impossible for me to sit back without saying something to some one of the sincere concern I have for recent events in the Royal Canadian Navy. I realize my concern should probably be communicated directly to the B.C. Mainland president, however time seems to be of essence if something is to be done before the RCN is completely demoralized by such actions as the 'firing' of Rear-Admiral Landymore. (How on earth can the dignity of the service be so lowered by using such terms, particularly with reference to an officer of the calibre of Admiral Landymore, or to any of our admirals for that matter.)

Kelowna is a small city and Canada is made up of a lot of places like this; we do not get the full story; we get bits and pieces which we have to put together... and then how, so far from it all, can we arouse public support in such matters as this.

"I feel absolutely positive that Admiral Landymore with his wealth of experience and his very character and his sincere regard for the officers and men of the RCN has acted accordingly. Is our navy to be lost in history like the Merchant Navy?

"I sincerely believe that the admiral is correct when he says that it is a 'political experiment'... it is time to completely examine 'integration' before any other steps are taken and I believe we in the Navy League have an important part to play, and if there is anything I can personally do, please do not hesitate to ask.

"This might be a voice from the wilderness, but I trust it does not fall on deaf ears. The welfare of thousands of men is at stake and the existence of our navy in jeopardy."

ON THE CORNER...

Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, Kelowna Mayor R. F. Parkinson and Kelowna Chamber of Commerce president W. R. Bennett joined others for a recent tour of the Madison-Beaverdell Mines Ltd. operation in Beaverdell.

The Canadian agriculture research station at Summerland has shifted to summer hours. Until the end of September, office and laboratory hours will be from 8 a.m. to 12 noon; 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. The ornamental areas will continue to be open until dark each day.

Norman Walker, principal of the Okanagan Regional College, will arrive in Kelowna Aug. 2 to take up his duties. The two-year, non degree granting institute is to be located on the west side of Okanagan Lake, across from Kelowna.

An "unusual" deck plaque was mounted on the instrument panel of one escort boat used during the British Columbia Cup races. Marriages performed by the captain of this vessel are used for the duration of this voyage only. There were no reports of any takers.

B. M. Meikle, manager of Cawthra and Meikle Insurance Agency Ltd., passed the notary public exams in Vancouver last week. A year's study was necessary before Mr. Meikle was able to take the exams which entitle him to act as a notary public.

The sudden afternoon showers which have plagued Kelowna recently have made a least one resident wary. Just as a dark cloud moved over the sun one afternoon this week, a woman shopper whipped out an enormous black umbrella and put it up.

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 26, of Kelowna sent Kelowna and district athletes to the Western Canadian age class track and field championships at Regina with a donation of $100 Wednesday. A further $100 is budgeted by the Legion for athletes in the Okanagan Track and Field Club.

Courier newsmen, after failing miserably at softball, may have found a sport that suits them. Apple box racing proved a piece of cake at the Tuesday night Aquacade as The Courier's defeated the radio station in a challenge race. The races are public events in Vancouver last day, with the television station taking the next challenge. A crowd of about 400 people roared its approval of The Courier's victory over the radio.

Under the Federal Act, five were for income tax offences, two for unemployment insurance, two under the Juvenile Delinquent Act and one miscellaneous.

In the district, the largest group was offences under the Motor Vehicle Act, 67, with 21 under the Criminal Code, 17 under the government Liquor Act, three under the Game Act and one under fisheries regulations. The magistrate conducted 144 interviews in the three-month period.

D. H. Ferguson Rites Monday

Funeral services were held Monday for David Harley Ferguson, 78, of 960 Bernard Ave.

Mr. Ferguson died July 16 at his home.

He was a member of the First United Church in Kelowna and the Prince Charles Masonic Order AF and AM. He was also a life member of the Royal Arch Lodge in Prince Albert, Sask.

Born in Kingston, Ont., Mr. Ferguson attended Queen's University. He taught school in Ontario, then in Govan, Sask. In 1914 he went overseas. When he returned in 1918 he again settled in the west. In 1923 he was married in Saskatchewan and he lived there while he was chief field supervisor of the Soldiers Settlement Board. He returned to Govan to teach, then moved to Prince Albert where he worked with the department of agriculture until his retirement to Kelowna in 1951.

Rev. R. S. Leitch officiated at the funeral service held from Day's Chapel of Remembrance. Burial was in the Garden of Rest in Lakeview Memorial Park.

Palbearers were Peter Ritchie, Harry Mitchell, Raymond Corner, Ernie Lewin, Herman Cowie, Harry Van Ackerman. Mr. Ferguson is survived by his wife Mildred; one daughter Marion (Mrs. Charles H. Blake) of Winnipeg; and two grand-children. One son, Rev. Earl Ferguson, predeceased in 1959. One brother and three sisters survive: Donald Ferguson, Fairfield, Ont.; Mrs. Ernie Ross, Brockville, Ont.; Mrs. Bruce Snider, Toronto; and Mrs. H. Webster, Lansdown, Ont.

FUTURE PLANS

Civic Centre Discussed

The main function of Kelowna's civic centre area should be to provide a focal stimulant for the city, architect George Barnes told Rotarians Tuesday.

Mr. Barnes, speaking at the luncheon meeting of the Kelowna Rotary Club, said Kelowna's major esthetic value lies in its natural beauty of greenery and lake-shore.

The second main function, he said, is to provide the actual physical accommodations and spaces which by their function and inter-relationships, encourage continued and expanding use by the citizen.

This is called employment through use, he said. Kelowna's civic centre area is normally considered to be bounded by Ellis St. Water St. Queenway and Doyle Ave.

Related and compatible buildings, federal, provincial and commercial buildings, make it difficult to consider one "look" as the civic square area, Mr. Barnes said.

"I would prefer to think of Kelowna's civic square area as an extension of park and lake, here an element which even though it takes place along the shoreline between Barnes Ave. and

Police Seek Car Owner

Only one accident was reported to the RCMP in the past 24 hours.

Cars driven by Kenneth Welsh, Edmonton and Wilma Dohler, Guisachan, were in collision at 6:05 p.m. Tuesday at Borden Ave. and Bowes St. Damage was estimated at $600. No injuries were reported.

RCMP are looking for the owner of a 1955 model car found demolished and abandoned off Teasdale Rd., near Rutland at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday.

District Men Ranks Boosted

Two men from the Kelowna area are among 134 Canadian forces officers to receive promotions and appointments to the rank of lieutenant-colonel or colonel or an equivalent rank.

LC-Mr. K. M. Young of Kelowna has been promoted to the rank of commander. He is now on staff of the commander Maritime Anti-submarine Force Pacific in Esquimalt.

Sqdn. Ldr. R. G. Husch of Rutland, CFB Trenton, Ont., was appointed officer commanding 437 Transport Squadron in Trenton.

Court Faces Heavy Docket Traffic Charges Numerous

Tuesday was a busy day in magistrate's court.

Gary Wilson Thompson, Kelowna, appeared before Magistrate D. M. White on three charges. He pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding and was fined $35. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. He was fined $50 on that charge. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention and was remanded until July 28 for trial.

Allia Bellamy, 1010 Coronation Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to yield to oncoming traffic and was fined $25.

Angus Campbell Wood, 1939 Richter St., pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way and was fined $35.

FINED $50
William James Pattison, Haynes Rd., Rutland, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way and was fined $50.

Roy Edmonds, Kelowna, pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and was fined $35.

Lost Vehicle Starts Trouble

Staggering through the backyard of the police station cost Kelowna man $25 in magistrate's court today.

Levoy Myrhaugen, 644 Cadder Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place. He was arrested at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday. He told police he was looking for his car.

On a case from Penticton, Robert John Hingle, Rutland, was fined $50 on a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. The prosecutor said he had four full bottles and one part bottle of beer. The accused told the magistrate he bought the liquor in a liquor store himself.

James J. Kitaura, Ponto Rd., Rutland, was charged with failing to file an income tax return after a demand notice. He did not appear in court but pleaded guilty through a lawyer and was fined $25.

Daryl Horace Gibbs, 1421 Richmond St., pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and the case was dismissed.

He was a passenger in a car May 21 which was stopped at Frank's Go-Cart near Highway 97 by Ruben Radomske. Mr. Radomske said the car was digging up gravel and driving too fast and he asked the driver, Terry Campbell, to stop. An argument began and Gibbs got out of the car. Mr. Radomske said Gibbs hit him first but the accused said Mr. Radomske pulled his car first. He admitted he hit Radomske then and they fell to the ground. Gibbs said Radomske called him a punk and invited him to get out of the car.

Magistrate D. M. White said the incident could have been avoided with mutual respect and courtesy. He said the evidence showed Radomske was not assaulted, that he provoked Gibbs who struck in self-defence.

Evelyn Jeanette Gordon, South Kelowna, was fined $50 when she pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to confine a vehicle to the right side of the road.

Douglas Rober, George, Westbank, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without insurance and was given a three-month suspended sentence. His driver's licence was also suspended for three months.

REMANDED
Basil Maurice Meikle, 1736 Water St., pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way and was remanded to July 29 for trial.

Dale Ernest Sewell, Raymer Rd., was charged with failing to drive with due care and attention. The case was adjourned until Aug. 10 for plea.

Frederick J. Verigin, 727 Wilson Ave., pleaded not guilty to a charge under the trade licence bylaw and was remanded to Aug. 9 for decision.

Lorne Eugene Tillotson, Gordon Rd., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without insurance and was fined $100 and his licence was suspended for three months.

J. D. Dion and Son Ltd., Rutland, was charged under the Unemployment Insurance Act, pleaded guilty and was fined $50.

Edmond Zittlau, Okanagan Centre Rd., Winfield, pleaded not guilty Monday to two charges of failing to stop at a stop sign. He was found guilty on both charges and was fined $25 on each.

Sunny...

Visitors to Kelowna and district should be able to enjoy the Okanagan's famous sunshine for the next couple of days.

Skies should be sunny today and Thursday, according to the Okanagan weather forecaster.

Winds are expected to be light and temperatures should rise Thursday.

Expected low tonight and high Thursday at Penticton 50 and 82.

The high in Kelowna Tuesday was 79 and the low was 52. A year ago on the same date the high was 75 and the low was 50.

Supply Meeting Demand As Other Fruits Develop

The peak of the cherry harvest has passed in the Kelowna area resulting in a slight decline in the demand for pickers.

All orchard accommodation is filled and only local residents are needed, says the Okanagan regional co-ordinator of farm labor activities.

A balanced supply and demand situation exists for all other agricultural occupations in the Kelowna area.

The apricot harvest will begin in Winfield next week. Local help is now sufficient to handle the harvest.

In Vernon, a balanced supply and demand situation exists for all agricultural workers. The bean harvest is expected to begin in about a week or 10 days.

The cherry harvest is underway in Oyanma and a few pickers are required. Only local residents are needed because all orchard accommodation is filled.

The cherry harvest is almost complete in Summerland and the apricot harvest is expected to begin in about 10 days. Help there is sufficient.

Cherry picking is almost completed in Penticton and there is no demand for help. The apricot harvest was delayed by poor weather but will probably begin in about a week.

Poor weather has restricted the apricot harvest in Oliver and Osoyoos to spot picking only. Regular picking will probably begin later this week, depending on the weather.

A good supply of pickers is registered. Some growers in the Kere-mecos area have started to pick apricots and apple thinning is in progress. There is an adequate supply of help in the area.

Laughs Available July 30 The Knack Will Be Here

The Knack, a comedy which won the best play award in the recent Dominion Drama Festival, will be presented in Kelowna July 30.

Sponsored by the University Women's Club, the play will be held in the Community Theatre, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

James Eberle, Robert Haley, Michael Ball and Sharon Pollock star in the Mac 4 Theatre Company of Calgary production.

In the Dominion Drama Festival in Victoria the play also captured the best actor and actress awards and a special award. Adjudicator Marius Goring praised the company for a "beautiful production" and "brilliant acting."

A tongue-in-cheek spoof of today's preoccupation with sex, The Knack, written by Ann Jellicoe, is full of noisy nonsense and youthful high spirits.

A hit on the London and off-Broadway stage, The Knack (and how to get it) was made into a movie starring Rita Tushingham.

Tickets for the one-night performance are available at Long's Super Drugs or at the theatre box office before the performance.

Log Contractor Dispute Spreads

A spark of the logging disputes that broke out in the Okanagan last month is flaring again in the East Kootenay.

Logging contractors and truckers involved in the dispute are affiliated with the Kelowna-based Interior Logging Association.

They seek higher rates for logs and hauling, up to what they call "recognized standards."

The 25 contractors and 10 truckers involved are working for the Creston, Cranbrook and Canal Flats sawmills of Crestbrook Timber Ltd.

The Crestbrook sawmills were reported running short of logs Tuesday.

A company spokesman said the sawmills were still operating but could not continue for long if the log supply did not resume.

Negotiations are continuing.

City Officer Inquest Set

An inquest into the death of Ian Frederick Collinson, City of Kelowna traffic officer who died this week, is scheduled for Monday at 2 p.m.

Mr. Collinson, 62, was injured July 2 in a motorcycle-car accident.

The inquest jury was empanelled Tuesday. Magistrate D. M. White will preside at the inquest.

Funeral services for Mr. Collinson will be held Friday at 10:30 a.m. in St. Michael and All Angels' church.

LAKE TUG BEING RENOVATED

The Canadian National Railways tug six is being renovated. Machinery is being checked and only one jobboat repaired in Vancouver. The renovation is an annual affair and should take another two weeks to complete. While tug six is in drydock, the CNR is operating with only one tugboat. Officials say this is the "slow season" and the best opportunity to complete work required on the boats. The drydock is located near the unlimited hydroplane pit area.

The Unlimiteds Have Come and Have Gone

The Unlimiteds have come and have gone. Their growl no longer echoes back from the hills; the lake is no longer garlanded by a dozen rooster-tails. Peace and quiet have returned. Except in the committee room.

There the pros and cons are being debated and will continue to be debated for weeks to come. In some ways the meet was a success; in others it was something of a flop. Just how the balance goes depends on the individual's own assessment.

On the negative side there was the first two days' fiasco. The affair was billed as five days of racing. It was publicized as such. In this the local committee was misled, or else the publicity experts over-played their hand. Time trials do not come under the term "racing" for the average person. The public never really understood no competitive racing events were actually scheduled until Sunday and not unnaturally some resentment was expressed.

Misunderstanding, too, was present about the time of arrival of the boats. It was not fully appreciated here until Friday that the boats had to arrive only in time for the Sunday race. An advance check could have saved considerable concern and many red faces.

It must be recorded, too, that the night shows did not even make a dull thud as they fell. This was not the fault of the performers; the people just did not attend. Why this was so is anyone's guess. Did the talent engaged just not appeal? Were the prices considered too high? Have warm summer nights been too few this year for anyone to waste one going to a show? Whatever the answer the night shows were a financial tragedy. It is just possible that the publicity surrounding the night shows left something to be desired. Obviously the public was not sold on the fact that the shows were good. No enthusiasm for the night shows was ever engendered.

As a matter of fact, the general publicity left something to be desired. In someone's wisdom, a team of professional publicity men was engaged to put the show on the map. This newspaper is something more than embarrassed because it innocently assisted in conveying to the public the impression that there would be races every day Wednesday through Sunday. We quickly learned we had to dig for ourselves and in the digging ran somewhat afoul of the experts and the committee.

Many estimates of the number of people here have been made. Just how many did see the race on Sunday and the time trials on the other days? A great many certainly. But there would have been many more but for two factors.

One of these was the early and constant prediction that a hundred thousand persons would attend. This optimistic figure served to keep people away. It is perfectly true that these races draw that many people, but this is when they are adjacent to populous centres. A hundred thousand people is a frightening figure in itself. Should that many people be predicted for Vernon or Penticton in a single day how many Kelowna people would venture to buck the traffic to the neighboring city, no matter what the attraction? This we think happened in reverse. Had the people who stayed away because of the hundred thousand figure been here, there would have been a hundred thousand.

The second factor—and we mention this with some reluctance—is the fact that live television coverage of the Okanagan reduced attendance. Why bother to drive thirty or forty miles in heavy traffic when you can sit in your living room, glass in hand, and obtain a creditable smattering of the show? A TV blackout would have contributed substantially to the attendance.

Then, too, there was the weather. How often at this time of the year do we get a strong north wind such as we had most of Sunday? It played hob with the races and it is to the credit of the officials and drivers that the races were eventually held. They were so impressed with arrangements here that they wanted to give a show if at all possible. Had the weather Sunday been favorable, it would have left a pleasant taste wiping out the rather sour taste of the first couple of days. Luck just was not with us on Sunday.

On the credit side of the ledger several items may be listed. One of these is that it was the first Unlimited race this year in which there has not been an accident.

Another is that there were no "incidents." Perhaps it was the well-organized policing; perhaps it was something else; but rowdiness was non-existent. The town was quieter at night than on many a regatta night. Which is all to the good, certainly.

The American officials and drivers were amazed at the facilities and the organization here. This story has been told many times, but these men were so enthusiastic that they made no secret of wanting to come back. Should they do so, it is a certainty that there will be more than eleven boats. It is certain, too, that Kelowna's stock on the powerboat circuit has been considerably enhanced.

The major credit for the success of the meet—and it was a success—must go to the scores of men and women who conceived, planned and organized the venture. It was a major undertaking and it certainly was not the committee's fault that things did not go quite as scheduled on one or two occasions.—After all who can predict the arrival time of a dozen independent drivers coming two thousand miles? And who can control the weather?

The committee naturally must be disappointed. With a break or two, the event could have been a triumph. As it was, most people were happy with what they saw. They thrilled to the roostertails; they love the deep, powerful growl of the engines; they gasped as the boats cut around the corners. Few indeed went home disappointed in what they saw.

The committee brought a great show to town and gave pleasure to many thousands of people. This must be its reward. This and the satisfaction of knowing that, within the bounds of its control, everything was ready and everything went according to plan.

This was a first venture into unknown areas. Misunderstandings and mistakes did arise, but they are mistakes and misunderstandings which can be avoided on another occasion.

The people of the Okanagan owe much to the men who gave of their time and energy to bring this event here for their pleasure.

Sweet Stuff Cut In Diabetic Diet

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

My brother, 50, has diabetes and has lost considerable weight. He takes three pills a day but his sugar count is over 250 and the doctor says if it gets over 300 he could go into a coma. That worries him but he still eats too much in the line of sweets. Should all sweets be eliminated, when taking his pills to get the sugar count down?—M.B.

Yes, I think he should eliminate sweets entirely. That, in fact, is best for anyone with diabetes. Some who have mild cases can handle a little sweet stuff if they compensate otherwise in diet, but no diabetic profits by eating sugar. Your brother, with a sugar level above 250, is not a mild diabetic.

There are four ways of treating diabetes. All aim at the same result. Diabetes means that the body cannot use up the normal amount of sugar. Therefore treatment consists of allowing the body to get sufficient nutrition while still seeing that no EXCESS sugar is allowed to accumulate in the body and, in time, cause complications.

These are the treatments:
1—Diet, such that the body absorbs sufficient nutrition without accumulating excess sugar. Diet alone works best for people who are too fat. They have been eating too much. They can cut down their food intake without being harmed. They are, in fact, better.
2—Pills (DBI and similar drugs) which help reduce excessive sugar levels.
3—Insulin, which reduces the sugar level not just by eliminating it but by putting it to useful purpose. After all, the reason why sugar accumulates is an inability to use it up, and this inability results from lack of enough insulin to do the job.

4—Some combination of the above three ways.

The diabetic, who can use up only a limited amount of sugar, still must eat enough foods which will provide OTHER nutrients. He still must have protein, and fat in small quantity, and vitamins, and minerals. Meat, bread, fruits and vegetables provide these. Yet all, whether in small degree or large, also include ingredients which will be converted into sugar once they are digested.

The diabetic must eat foods which in the end will give him what he needs for health yet at the same time not include more sugar than he can use up. Thus sweet stuff—cake, cookies, confections—is what he has to avoid.

Diet, therefore, is the basic part of treatment for EVERY diabetic. Pills, which get rid of some sugar, or insulin, which USES UP (CONSTRUCTIVELY) some sugar, can be effective only when used along with suitable diet. The biggest problem in treating diabetes is convincing patients of this fundamental fact.

When too much sugar accumulates in the system, the risk is coma. It does not necessarily occur at a level of 300, because other factors are involved besides. Your brother's doctor evidently has noted these other signs. He has warned your brother. Pills (or even insulin) do not mean that the patient can eat all he wants, or eat all the sweets he wants.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

WON'T COME AGAIN

Sir:

I have never been so misled and disillusioned in my life, as I was this week in Kelowna. I am referring to the British Columbia Cup unlimited hydroplane races.

To be blunt, I think the races were completely misrepresented and are slightly more than a farce.

To start with, the races were advertised as taking place July 13 to 17—four days of racing. This was slightly more than a lie. The advertising was obviously just a guise to get tourists to come to Kelowna, possibly with the idea of getting what the city can from them before the tourists leave town.

In my mind, the races were merely a front for some of your local organizations to use in order to "fleece" tourists of as much money as they can. To name a few examples, there is the, sitting at the Kelowna Aquatic. I bought an expensive ticket to sit and watch the "races" on Thursday, only to sit there all afternoon and see nothing. The only attempt made at putting on a show was when the Tri-City floundered out of the pit area stalling and back-firing, before finally making it safely back to shore, being beached for the rest of the day.

Pit tours, simply to get a half-decent look at the boats, are $2. This is absolutely ridiculous. It is obviously just another way to "stick it into the tourists."

Now, none of the blame falls on the hydroplane drivers or crew members. They have done their best to get ready for Sunday's events. All the blame falls on the Kelowna organizations backing the races and on those in charge of the advertising.

I, for one, will never return to Kelowna. And I am not alone. There are many others who are furious at being "taken for a ride."

I say to the hydroplane organizations—"Smarten up. If you ever want to have another hydroplane race in Kelowna, you had better get new organizers—someone with respect for visitors. Don't be greedy, trying to take the tourists for all the money you can get."

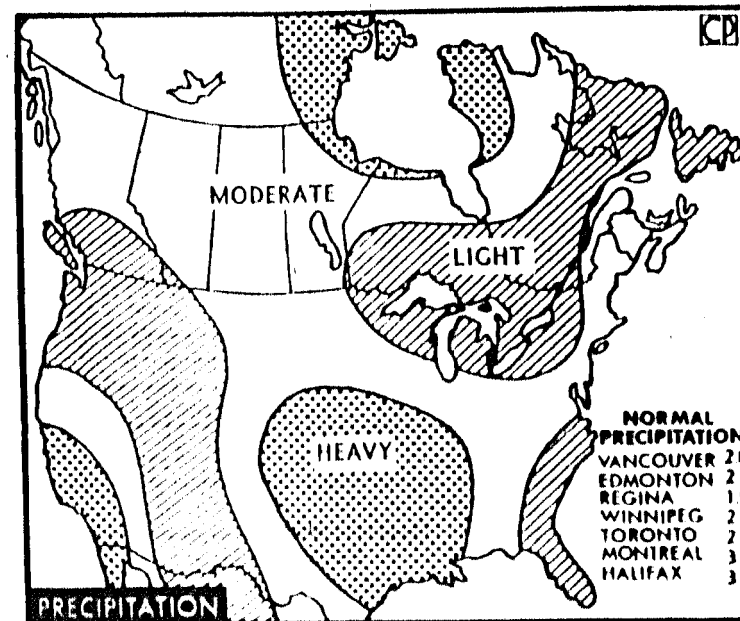

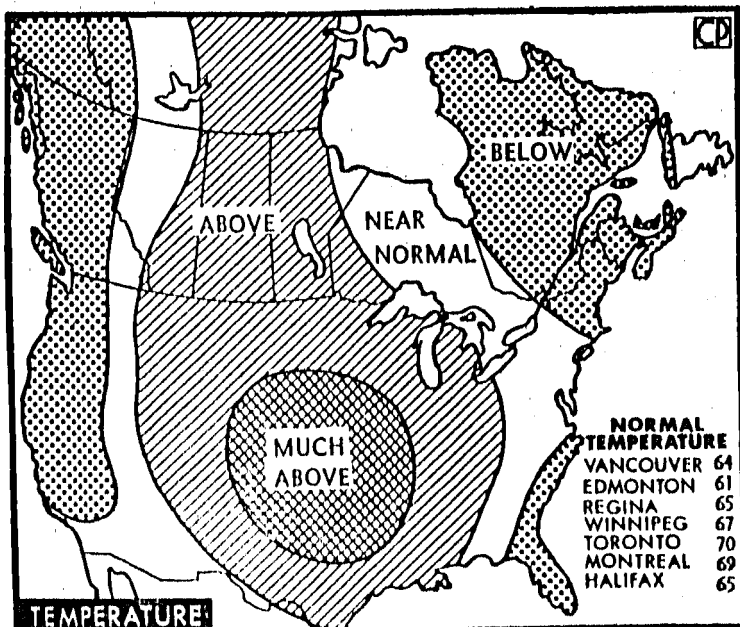

Yours truly,
RON JACOBSON,
Omaha, Neb.

CROP SAVED?

OTTAWA REPORT

What's Wrong With Canada?

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

What's wrong with Canada? The most prevalent criticism today, according to a recent poll of public opinion, is that inflation is rampant, and the cost of living is consequently soaring. This is the chief beef of Canadians today.

In the three years since Prime Minister Pearson's Liberal government assumed office, from May 1963 to May this year, the consumer price index has risen 11 points, or 8 1/2 per cent, according to the official survey by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. That happens to be exactly the same percentage rise as that recorded during the previous six years through most of which Donald Fleming, "the housewife's friend," was minister of finance, keeping a strict thumb on the cost of living.

The Pearson era has thus been an era of inflation. But Canada cannot afford to have prices continually rising at this rate of 2 1/2 per cent each year. This is pricing Canadian goods out of world markets.

Wages have risen even more than prices during the three Pearson years, and their increase in this period has been 10 1/2 per cent. Yet despite that increase, the average Canadian housewife feels herself to be worse off now than she was three years ago, in the sense that her housekeeping money buys less.

HOW SOARING ARE PRICES?

Is this a misconception? Or is our inflation worse than the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports?

There are good grounds for arguing that the DBS yardstick does not accurately reflect the cost of living to the average Canadian. This has been substantiated by a private firm of accountants, which has recently analyzed prices and come up with the conclusion that inflation has slashed the purchasing power of our dollar by nearly 10 per cent during just the past two years.

There are various grounds on which these accountants criticize the DBS figure. First, its typical "shopping basket" is now outdated, and does not represent the true spending pattern of the average family. Second, its surveys are inaccurate in assuming that prices are the same throughout any metropolitan area. For instance, Torontonians tend to shop at their nearest shopping centre. Those living in the western fringe of that metropolis pay rather higher prices for their goods. They probably don't know that many grocery items can be found perhaps 10 per cent cheaper on the eastern fringe; but even if they do know that, can the Oakville housewife be expected to travel many miles through the cross-town traffic to buy more cheaply in Scarborough?

ALL CANNOT USE SALES

Thirdly, the pricing methods of DBS are questioned. Sure, an average suit of men's clothes might be available in a certain bargain basement for $52 in the sales. But can Father always be sure that a sale will be on just when he suddenly needs a new suit for an unexpected funeral, or when his old suit wears out? And if he does go to the sales, as like as not the suit he wants is not available in his size. So he pays the regular price of $85 for his new suit. The same with children's shoes; what child ever conveniently needs new shoes just when the sales happen? or will those sales-bought shoes fit Junior when he needs them, several sizes later, and he has grown several sizes larger? and what mother can drag her brood round the crowded sales to hunt for that special pair of shoes? Thus the prices on which the DBS sometimes bases its consumer price index may be correct on paper, but are often entirely impracticable in ordinary life.

So I respect that independent survey, which tells us that living costs are not just soaring upwards, as DBS says, but are in fact sky-rocketing. And if you think price increases are bad now, wait until early next year when we feel the full force of the pattern of settlement of wage demands.

July 20, 1966 . . .

The British colony of British Columbia joined Confederation 85 years ago today—in 1871—and became a province of Canada. There had been exploration and settlement of the area for less than 100 years and only in 1849 did the British government take an interest there, to resist U.S. claims to the Hudson's Bay Company's territories. The gold rushes of 1858 and 1860 brought in thousands of settlers, but the colony was on the verge of bankruptcy all the time. One of the conditions for joining Canada was the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

1814—Eight U.S. citizens were hanged as spies at Ancaster, Ont.

1933—The Pope signed a pact with Nazi Germany.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1916—Allies pressed on a 12-mile front in the Somme sector; Russians crossed the Sty River and took 12,000 prisoners; the British inquiry into the failure of the Dardanelles campaign began.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1941—the RAF bombed Naples; Bolivia declared a state of siege and ordered the expulsion of German officials suspected of plotting a coup d'etat; heavy fighting continued on the Russian Front.

CANADA'S STORY

Quebec Helped B.C. In Its Early Days

By BOB BOWMAN

Before British Columbia and Vancouver Island were united as one colony in 1866, New Westminster was the capital of the mainland. The original choice had been Fort Langley, but Governor Douglas decided that it was too close to the U.S. border. Many people had bought property around the old Hudson's Bay Company fort, on the understanding that the capital would be there, and accused Douglas of having fooled them in order to increase the value of the company property. Finally they were allowed to exchange their holdings at Fort Langley for land at Queensborough, as New Westminster was called.

The royal proclamation changing the name Queensborough to New Westminster, and making it the capital, was on July 20, 1859. Secretary of the Colonies Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton did not like the name Queensborough, and said it was "not only prosaic but the quintessence of vulgarity."

By coincidence July 20 also became the date when British Columbia joined Canada, in 1871. Although the federal government had promised to build a railway to the Pacific, Confederation was not welcomed by a number of British Columbians. One official said "We are a conquered country and the Canucks take possession tomorrow."

Nevertheless, there were celebrations throughout the new province beginning at midnight July 19. In Victoria, Canadian supporters gathered on the streets and cheered, while bells rang, guns fired, and Roman candles were lighted.

James W. Trutch was appointed the first lieutenant-governor. He had taken part in the negotiations in Ottawa where Sir George Edmond Cartier represented Canada because Prime Minister Macdonald was ill. Later Trutch said publicly "We must all remember in British Columbia that to Sir George Cartier and his followers in Lower Canada we owe the position we are now in and especially the Canadian Pacific Railway."

Evidently British Columbia has not forgotten. Recently its government lent Quebec $100,000,000, saving Quebec $750,000 in legal fees and brokerage charges it would have paid had it gone to regular sources for the money.

Admiral Urges Hellyer To Hold Talks

CHESTER, N.S. (CP)—Rear Admiral Jeffrey V. Brock, retired former vice-chief of naval affairs, re-issued his challenge today that Defence Minister Hellyer openly discuss service unification matters with serving and retired naval officers. Admiral Brock said in an interview at his home in this resort area 50 miles from Halifax that Mr. Hellyer should discuss the matters in the presence of the press. He said Monday that Parliament should be re-called to discuss the unification controversy and suggested that Mr. Hellyer resign. Failing that, he said, the defence minister should come to Halifax to face his senior naval officers "eyeball-to-eyeball" in the presence of the press. Mr. Hellyer said in Ottawa Tuesday that "I expect to go to Halifax soon and I'd be pleased to see my old friend, Admiral Brock." However, the minister said he doubts a meeting with the press present would serve any useful purpose. Admiral Brock issued the following statement today: "I am delighted to learn that the minister has agreed to re-visit Halifax. I hope he will be able to announce before his arrival that he has recommended to the prime minister the re-call of Parliament to debate the grave issues he now faces as a result of his controlling our armed forces and spending $1,500,000,000 annually for his purposes. "If Mr. Hellyer wants to meet me privately or if, as minister of national defence he would like to confront me publicly, I am willing to oblige and am readily available. However, the national interest would be best served by Mr. Hellyer calling for a meeting with officers of the Atlantic Command during his visit and clarifying his plans for reunification. "At the meeting he should be prepared, in the presence of the press, to devote most of his time to answering questions of those who have been so seriously disturbed by recent events.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN M. BURNETT

Kelowna Couple Celebrate Their Diamond Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Burnett, 68, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary on July 15, when a number of relatives and close friends gathered in the Reception Room at 3:30 p.m. to congratulate the couple and wish them well.

Mr. Burnett, who was born in Kansas, and Mrs. Burnett, born in Nebraska, were married in the year 1906 in Palouse, Washington. They took up residence in Kelowna in 1910 where Mr. Burnett engaged in farming and building until 1948, when they moved to Kelowna and Mr. Burnett entered the contracting business, retiring approximately 10 years later. Three children were born of the marriage of whom Mrs. Elise Warren of Enderby is the only one now living.

Attending the anniversary celebrations were the happy couple's daughter Mrs. Warren and her two sons Dennis and James from Enderby; two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Burnett of Walla Walla, Wash. and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burnett of Portland; two sisters, Mrs. Allen Miller of Woodland, California, with her daughter Mrs. George Thompson of Chico, Cal., and Mrs. Blanche Parsons of Kelowna; and their granddaughter Mrs. Bryan Camp and her husband from Kamloops.

The anniversary table for the bride and groom of 60 years was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, and the buffet luncheon table was presided over by Mrs. Milo Burnett and Mrs. S. V. Hubble. Mrs. J. H. Burnett was in charge of the guest book, and Mrs. George Thompson presided at the punch table. Co-hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. Elise Warren and Mrs. Blanche Parsons, and lovely arrangements of cut garden flowers decorated the guest tables.

Milo Burnett, when proposing the toast to the bride and groom of 60 years ago, gave a brief historical sketch of their lives together. John Burnett acknowledged the toast and expressed thanks and appreciation for the many messages of good wishes received.

In addition to the many cards and gifts received, messages were read by Milo Burnett by telegram from Her Majesty the Queen and letters from Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. G. A. Peakes, Premier, the Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, Prime Minister, the Hon. L. B. Pearson, and Secretary of State, the Hon. Judy LaMarsh.

Noteworthy on this occasion is the fact that this is the second diamond wedding anniversary to be celebrated by the Burnett family within eight months. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burnett of Portland, Ore. having celebrated theirs in December, 1965.

In the evening a family reunion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hubble, Eltham St. where a buffet supper was served on the lawn.

ANN LANDERS

Cemetery Head Stones Do Not Hug Well

Dear Ann Landers: I was rocked by the letter from 12-year-old Danny. His mother would not give him money to go to the movies with his schoolmates because he had been sick a great deal and his illness had cost the family so much. His mother told him that because of the doctor bills and hospital bills he had run up, she wasn't going to be able to buy any new clothes for a long time, and they'd have to forget about a new car. Danny asked you how he could let his mother know that he loved her and that he was sorry he had caused them so much trouble.

I would like to address my remarks to Danny's mother:

Madame: If you feel that your son is too expensive, will you please send him to me? Being ill and confined to a hospital is difficult enough for a child who wants to be well and strong. To make him feel that he is a financial burden is just about the cruelest thing I've ever heard of.

Head stones in the cemetery don't hug well, I know. I have three of them. Believe me, I'd gladly wear rags for the rest of my life, and I'd give up riding in cars forever if I could have just one of my three sons in my arms, this very moment. You obviously don't appreciate it, but you have been blessed with God's greatest gift—the love of a child. It is a mystery to me, as I am sure it is to others, how you have managed to raise such a wonderful little boy. I'll bet he has a fine father. TULSA.

Fresh Green Beans Are A Rarity Now

OTTAWA (CP)—If you've got a fresh green or yellow bean in your hand, you're holding a comparative rarity. Only about 25 per cent of the crop is sold fresh, because the bean is one of our principal canning vegetables.

They taste best when cooked as soon as possible after picking, the cooks at the federal agriculture department say. They should snap crisply when broken between the fingers and should not be washed, stemmed or cut until immediately before cooking time.

A pound of fresh beans serves three or four people, and there are only 36 calories in a half-cup serving. If calories don't bother you, home economists advise slathering the cooked bean with butter or a mayonnaise or sour-cream sauce.

Okanagan Artist Receives Recognition In The U.S.

Recognition from the United States has come to Okanagan artist Irvine Adams of Sumnerland, who has received word from New York that his name is now listed in 'Who is Who in American Art'.

This list of artists is sponsored by the American Federation of Art, which follows the new and important trends in the contemporary art scene.

Mr. Adams has also been informed that two of his paintings have been purchased for the permanent collection of the Glenboro Foundation in Calgary, sponsored by the Alberta Government.

AROUND TOWN

Monday was 'Kelowna Night' at the Penticon Summer Theatre, and among the Kelownians who drove down to see the production of 'The Little Hut' were Mrs. C. R. Reid, Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin, Mrs. H. T. Barrett, Mrs. M. J. Evans, Mrs. Cecil Moore, Miss Nancy Gale, Miss Margaret Claw, Mrs. A. F. Pettipiece, Mrs. Michael Utley, Miss Susanne Zwarun, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Upton and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Orr.

The hilariously funny three-act comedy by Andre Roussin, centers around a threesome marooned on a South Sea Island. Directed by Dorothy Davies of Vancouver, the cast of Noel Swann, Brenda Ellis, Reg Romero, Bill Boychuck and Michael Riley, are excellent, and offer a most amusing evening of adult entertainment.

Mrs. E. M. Jellett entertained her golfing friends at a delightful coffee party held on the lawn of her home on Radford Road Monday morning. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Max de Puyffer and Mrs. Daniel Currell, and serving the guests were Mrs. T. McClelland, Miss Jeanette Reekie and Mrs. Ernest Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Meikle have returned from a visit to Vancouver where they attended the Atkinson-McGrath wedding at St. Mary's Church in Kerrisdale. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Meikle's brother, W. S. Meikle.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Meikle who have been at the Coast attending the Atkinson-McGrath wedding at which Mr. Meikle was an usher, were accompanied on their return to Kelowna by their nephews, Dale and Brent Harris who are spending a week here as their guests.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Cameron for the next 10 days will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bell and their four children from Dauphin, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parsons and their son, Monty, accompanied by Mrs. O. W. Parsons, Sr., of Carpinteria, California, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comer in Okanagan Mission.

Ian McLelland has returned to Kamloops after enjoying a two weeks' vacation in Kelowna visiting his mother Mrs. T. McLelland.

Spending 10 days in Kelowna are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph de Puyffer and their small daughter, Nancy, who are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max de Puyffer.

J. H. Patience has returned to his home in Essex, England, following a visit to his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John Campbell in Kelowna.

Enjoying a holiday at the Quo Vadis Motel are former Kelownians, Mrs. Sherwood Campbell and Mrs. T. Sanderson both of Vancouver.

Mrs. Janie Olway returned to her home in Winnipeg by air on Monday following a holiday of several months enjoyed in Kelowna, where she was the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stewart, Imperial Apartments.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hanna this week are Mr. and Mrs. W. Owen of Victoria and their daughter, Bonnie, who are en route to Jasper Park.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Laycock for the past few days have been the former's mother, Spending the past few weeks in Kelowna visiting Mrs. Jean Flynn have been her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tranter from Fort Worth, Texas, who have left on a holiday to California.

Mrs. Harry Middleton and her baby daughter, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Middleton in East Kelowna have returned to their home in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rantala have been Miss Helen Hilman of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Dianna Matson, and Dennis and Brett Matson of Battleground, Washington. Miss Mary Rantala and her brother, John, have left on a holiday to Oregon and Washington during which Miss Rantala plans to attend confirmation classes in Seattle.

Lakeview Heights Social Items

Arriving on Thursday to stay a week or so with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Huva and family were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dickson, Mrs. Huva's brother and sister-in-law from Glasgow, Scotland. Mr. and Mrs. P. Osler and their daughter Karen, from Dorval, Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dickson, a brother and sister-in-law from Powell River, B.C. The occasion is a family reunion in honor of Mrs. Huva's father, Dr. Frank Dickson of Kelowna.

Of interest to his friends in Lakeview Heights is the news that Fred Kramer recently received his diploma in hairdressing from the Vocational School in Vancouver. Fred is now on the staff at the 'House of Charles' in Vancouver.

PRAIRIE WAS BOMBED
WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba has at least 12 lakes in craters formed by falling meteorites millions of years ago, says Dr. Ian Halliday. He is head of the Dominion Observatory's meteor research program.

Reception In East Kelowna Follows Pretty Wedding

The Immaculate Conception Church was the scene of a pretty afternoon wedding on July 9 when Anne Mary Kolodychuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kolodychuk of Kelowna, became the bride of Gary Prokopetz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prokopetz of Kelowna.

Rev. Father T. Fulco officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and Mrs. Reginald Martin sang the 'Ave Maria' accompanied by Mrs. P. Suschnik.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a traditional gown of nylon organza over rayon tulle. Nylon lace flowers trimmed the fitted bodice which was fashioned with long, lace, lily-point sleeves, and scalloped lace panels were inset in the full skirt which featured a large bow at the back waistline. A white satin rose held her elbow-length veil of nylon tulle in place, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

For 'something old' the bride carried her grandmother's handkerchief, for 'something borrowed' she wore a pearl pendant, and for 'something blue' a garter.

Miss Rose Kolodychuk, her sister's sole attendant, was charming in a floor-length gown of yellow satin styled on empire lines and trimmed with white lace. Her headpiece was a rose of yellow satin with veiling and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Acting as best man was Al Prokopetz, brother of the groom from Regina, and the ushers were two cousins Patrick and Kenneth Leier of Kelowna.

At the reception which followed in the East Kelowna Hall, the mother of the bride received wearing a three-piece, double-knit suit with a pink flowered hat, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted her, chose a blue crepe dress accented with a white hat, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle Brother Casimir of Edmonton and was ably answered by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaid was given by the best man, and centering the white lace cloth on the bride's table was a three-

Bride's Luncheon Party Easy With Six 'Servants'

Jerry added the last finishing touches to the kitchen decor and looked fondly at both the attractive color scheme and his bride, Judy. "The orange and cream color-scheme in our kitchen is exactly right for you. After all," he laughed, "a gal can look pretty while she cooks pretty. What's for the luncheon party today?"

"It's going to be a make-your-own sandwich luncheon, elegant yet easy-do with my modern servants," said Judy. "And where, may I ask, did you find any servants?"

"There they are: Mr. and Mrs. Electric Utensils and their family: Automatic Toaster; medium mild onion; 2 small sections peeled garlic; 1 medium green pepper; 1 tsp. salt; 1 tsp. sugar; 8 drops Tabasco; ¼ tsp. ground cumin seed; 2 tbsp. olive oil; 1½ tsp. sharp vinegar; 1 c. fine soft white bread crumbs; ½ c. canned condensed beef broth; ½ c. water. Garnish: Choice of 1 c. minced scallions, or cress.

To Prepare: Scald and skin tomatoes; peel and halve cucumber; scoop out seeds. Peel and mince onion and garlic. Chop green pepper. Add salt, sugar, Tabasco and cumin seed; stir in olive oil and vinegar. Add crumbs to broth and water. Put prepared vegetables, sea-

RUTLAND ITEMS

Flight - Lieutenant Mervin Hunter, RCAF, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Hunter and children, have been visiting at the homes of the former's father, Sam Hunter, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Greig, and also Mrs. Hunter's mother, Mrs. A. M. Campbell, Ponto Road, Rutland.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Cross have been Mrs. George Clark of Watsonville, California and her family of five children. Mr. Clark was a former teacher on the Rutland school staff, and they resided here some years ago. Also visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cross has been David Noble of Vancouver, a nephew.

Samuel Hunter returned recently from Winnipeg where he visited friends and relatives.

John and Kim Slater, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Slater, who are attending the band workshop at the Summer School of Arts at Penticton, were home for the weekend to visit their parents and to view the boat races. The two boys, together with David Graf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Graf, Rutland, were winners of awards which entitled them to attend the three-week workshop. Another Rutland scholar attending the summer school is James Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simpson.

Mrs. C. A. Shunter, who recently returned from Vancouver where she had been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jack Kyle, left last weekend for Cranbrook, where she will visit another daughter, Mrs. Bev Rauch.

MISSION ITEMS

White Man's World Appears Wierd And Wonderful Place

VANCOUVER (CP)—A pair of wide-eyed teenagers from the Cree Indian reserve in Northern Manitoba have found the white man's world a weird and wonderful place.

Judy Cubb and Mary Bernadette Cubb, 16-year-old cousins, have been guests of a British Columbia forest company for six days.

The slim, shy youngsters, whose stomachs seem to have a limitless capacity for hamburgers and other goodies, have taken in what to them is an awe-inspiring collection of sights.

Things that are a matter of course to their city-slicker cousins have brought giggles of delight from the girls.

Today the fairy tale trip ends and the girls head back to Gods Lake Narrows, 400 miles north of Winnipeg.

It all started from a warmly worded—and lengthy—request for information from Judy to the giant forest enterprise of Macmillan Bloedel Ltd. She said she wanted to launch a school project about the company.

The youngsters, who seldom said more than "yes" and "no," showed their glee with eyes, hands and giggles.

Promoting Expo And Arranging Cultural Exchanges Is Her Job

OTTAWA (CP)—If you're around the Canadian Embassy in Paris next fall, you may run into Michele Laperriere. Besides showing Parisians what a pretty Canadian girl looks like, she'll be doing such things as promoting Expo and arranging cultural exchanges.

The fair-haired 22-year-old is an administrative officer with the external affairs department. After two years in Ottawa she uses words like fascinating, stimulating and exciting to describe her job. The 3½-year Paris posting is frosting on the cake—"fantastic" she says excitedly.

A small, slim girl with big blue eyes and freckles, Michele wanted to be a teacher when she came to Ottawa in 1964. But her best friend was applying to the government and external affairs, had been a high school ambition, so she went for an interview.

"After four weeks in the department I was hooked." She has worked in the information, protocol, government hospitality and cultural exchange sections and met such people as the Shah of Iran and the late Indian prime minister Shastri while helping arrange their visits to Canada.

Right now language training takes up most of her time. She isn't a student—she speaks English, French and Spanish already. Her job is arranging timetables for external affairs personnel taking courses in everything from Chinese to Swahili.

FRIENDS ON MOVE
"The language schools are very patient with us. Our people are always missing two weeks because they have to go to the United Nations or leave in the middle of a course because they've been posted."

People are always coming and going, and that's one of the hardest things about the job. "You have to get used to losing your friends after you've just got to know them. But I admit the chance to travel was one of the things that attracted me. I can't stand staying in one place."

Travel has been the story of her life so far. An "army brat" who had lived in Quebec City, Saint John, N.B., Washington and Germany before she was 12, she attended a French-speaking high school in Ottawa and the English-language Sir George Williams University in Montreal.

Her job could be the career path to an ambassadorship. The other route, for experts in economics or politics, leads through the foreign service officer ranks.

"We have one woman ambassador, Margaret Meagher in Austria, and three other women who could be." But only if they don't get married. "Women have to travel alone."

It's pretty hard for them to be lonely though. They're much too busy. Michele once worked 21 18-hour days arranging an official visit.

And then there are the parties that are almost part of the job. Michele says she has rarely met a boring person at all the diplomatic cocktail parties, state dinners or official receptions she has been to.

Mini Skirts Of Fur May Keep Hemlines Up This Fall

LONDON (AP)—As London's top fashion designers opened their autumn-winter shows today there were no real signs that the miniskirt is doomed.

On the contrary, the Queen's furrier, Calman Links, came out for the first time with thigh-high skirts in fur. Some were in bronze in color, and black seal and moleskin.

Links also lifted the curtain on ponsykin suits with short skirts, the fur as sleek and unbulky as a fine fabric.

Aristoc, one of the foremost makers of stockings to be worn with the new clothes, showed hose tops high up the leg.

Fashion writer Jean Rook commented: "There is no chance here for a sudden drop in skirts."

JUDY, A NEW BRIDE, prepares for her first luncheon party. The electric knife is one of her six 'servants'.

Waffle-Baker; Immersible Electric Coffee Pot; Buffet Skillet; Deluxe Electric Blender; and our Cordless Electric Slicing Knife.

"Wow, with these helpers you can cook quicker and easier by yourself than even with Mom's old-fashioned help!"

JUDY'S MAKE-YOUR-OWN-SANDWICH LUNCHEON MENU
Gazpacho (prepare first)
Warm Sesame Wafers
Sandwiches on White or Entire Wheat Bread (Toast if desired)
Coverings: Sliced Tomato, Panned Canadian Bacon, Minceed Green Peppers and Russian Dressing

Cheddar Cheese Slices, Thin-Sliced Salami, Mayonnaise Piquant on Dark Bread
Wedges of Cantaloupe with Lemon Sherbet
Chocolate-Nut Chusters (candy)
Hot or Iced Coffee

All Judy had to prepare and chill was the gazpacho, and cantaloupe wedges. The only hot foods were the Canadian bacon and the coffee.

An hour before the party, Judy arranged the sandwich makings on the orange-colored kitchen counter. She put a big wedge of cheddar cheese on a cutting board along with the cordless electric slicing knife. Every guest tried and liked it. The electric refrigerator took care of the dessert. The guests happily made up their own sandwiches, and enjoyed them on the terrace. "A real success," said Jerry, "thanks to your clever use of the new, modern electric servants."

Teenage Swing Not Italian Style

ROME (AP)—Two of Italy's foremost designers—Federico Forquet and Irene Galitzine—have chosen as their ideal this year a new, feminine woman who prefers to look her age elegantly rather than dress like a swinging teen-ager.

This was evident Tuesday night as Forquet and Galitzine took the stage to close the second day of Italian high fashion showings for fall and winter.

Forquet showed draped shapes in two-piece outfits that took the place of suits. They had hip-length tops gathered softly into a sash tie on the hip bone.

Galitzine's bedtime lingerie was extremely feminine. She showed blowy chiffon prints for robes that tied with tiny shoe string bows and for nightgowns that had tightly-smocked top and flowing skirts or rippled softly from empire waists.

USES BLANKET
She used a satin-bound wool-mesh blanket to make a shorty trapeze brunch coat. One of her new versions of the baby doll is soft silk bloomers plus a floaty triangular cape.

WORLD CUP SOCCER ACTION AT BIRMINGHAM

Brazilian Hopes Dashed Portugal Now Favorite

LONDON (CP) — Portugal, the conqueror of mighty Brazil, was established today as the firm favorite to win the eighth World Cup, the trophy of soccer supremacy.

Brazil, the defending champion now clinging to a slim hope of survival in the world championship, was a long shot in the betting.

Such are the fortunes of international soccer.

Before the final series of the World Cup started July 11, Brazil was a 7-to-4 favorite to take the title for the third straight time.

England was 4-to-1 and Italy 8-to-1.

Now what's happened?

Italy is out of the championship after a 1-0 loss to North Korea Tuesday. Brazil is almost certainly a goner.

In other games Tuesday, Argentina knocked off Switzerland 2-0 and Mexico fought Uruguay to a scoreless draw.

Portugal's odds before the cup matches started were 22 to 1. Today, two leading British bookies made Portugal the favorite. One offered the tight odds of 6 to 4, the other 3 to 1.

FACED BY EUSEBIO

Portugal overpowered Brazil 3-1 Tuesday on the strength of two goals by Eusebio, the new king of world soccer, a 24-year-old African from Mozambique whom the fans call the Black Panther.

His full name is Eusebio da Silva Ferreira. He grew up amid the hovels of Lourenco Marques, capital of the Portuguese East African colony. Now he is rich beyond his childhood dreams.

Eusebio, an inside left, has demonstrated in the last 10 days that no one in the world, Brazil's Pele included, in his superior.

When he first came to Europe six years ago, he played barefoot. He graduated first to one boot, then to two.

Now he has helped make his Lisbon club, Benfica, and Portugal's national team powers in the soccer world.

STILL RANKED SECOND

England still maintained its second favorite spot at 4 to 1. The host country's odds were based on the fact that it still has to qualify for the quarter-finals in a match against France today.

Portugal humbled Brazil at Liverpool in a match that saw Brazil's Pele, the dethroned king of soccer, injured in the 30th minute and limping through the rest of the game.

Eusebio's genius has given

Portugal an unbeaten run in three matches in Group Three and made it winner of that section of the tournament.

The victory sent Portugal into the quarter-finals, together with Argentina, Russia and Uruguay. Out of the champion-

Pitching—Jim Perry, Minnesota Twins, allowed only two infield hits and drove in two runs as he pitched Minnesota to a 4-0 victory and a sweep of the doubleheader against Washington Senators. The Twins won the first game 5-4.

Batting—Frank Robinson, Baltimore Orioles, smashed three hits including his 24th and 25th home runs of the year as Baltimore routed Detroit Tigers 13-3.

Big Bird Boomers Increase Their Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

There isn't much the American League can do about Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary, Russ Snyder and the rest of Baltimore Orioles' sluggers.

But at least Eddie Watt is out of the way.

Watt said he wasn't ready to join the Orioles' slugging society just yet Tuesday even though he walloped his first major league home run while pitching Baltimore to a 13-3 rout over Detroit.

Watt's homer was the fourth of the night for the Orioles, who pounded four Detroit pitchers for 19 hits. These conventional sluggers Frank Robinson and Blefary whacked the first three. Robinson's 24th and 25th driving in five runs.

The result stretched Baltimore's first-place bulge over the Tigers to 9½ games.

WINS SEVENTH GAME

Watt, a rookie reliever, went the distance in his second start, scattering eight hits and raising his record to 7-1.

Both Brooks and Frank Robinson ripped three hits apiece and Snyder, the league's top hitter, stroked two hits and raised his average to .336.

FRANK ROBINSON
... slams two home runs

In the only other American League games Tuesday, Minnesota Twins swept a doubleheader 5-4 and 4-0 from Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland Indians 5-4. Kansas City at New York and California at Boston were postponed by rain.

Robinson's first home run was a three-run shot in the first inning as the Orioles hopped on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. He hammered No. 25 in the fourth inning after Watt had singled.

Blefary and Watt homered in the sixth against Johnny Podres.

Both Robinsons left the game in the seventh after collecting their third hits of the game. Until he was replaced by a pinch runner, Brooks had played every inning this season.

PERRY CHECKS NATS

Jim Perry allowed just two infield singles and drove in two runs as the Twins completed their sweep against Washington.

Perry retired 17 of the last 18 batters he faced.

Cesar Tovar, who scored the winning run on Harmon Killebrew's eighth-inning single in the first game, also drove in two runs in the nightcap.

Jim Kaat weathered a 13-hit Senator attack to win his 13th game in the opener.

Pete Richert had a 4-2 lead on a two-hitter through six innings, but had to leave when his arm stiffened. It was Richert's first appearance since the All-Star game. After that game, Washington manager Gil Hodges criticized Sam Mele of Minnesota for overworking Richert in the bullpen.

Pinch hitter Smoky Burgess delivered a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning, lifting the White Sox past the Indians.

Cleveland continued its slugging surge with homers by Fred Whitfield and Chuck Hinton. Jerry Adair had a two-run homer for the White Sox.

Clay-London Bout To Be Televised

LONDON (AP)—The heavy-weight fight between world champion Cassius Clay and British challenger Brian London Aug. 6 will be televised live in color in Canada, the United States and Mexico, promoters said Tuesday.

The broadcast will be relayed via the Early Bird satellite.

The fight, to be held in London's Earl Court arena, will be shown on closed-circuit television in Britain's major cities.

Astroturf Begets Problems But Not For Houston Team

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Philadelphia Phillies knew before the game that the outfield grass in the Astrodome had been changed, but it's doubtful if they were ready for the change in Houston pitcher Dick Farrell.

Farrell scattered eight hits Tuesday night as the Astros climbed one game above the .500 mark by beating the fourth-place Phillies 8-2.

But the change in Farrell (4-0) didn't occur on the mound—where he has always been respected—but at bat—where he never has been feared.

The veteran righthander clubbed two singles and his first homer since 1962 in four trips. The homer came with two men on in the sixth and gave the Astros a 7-2 lead.

The game was the first played on a surface of artificial grass, both the outfield and the infield. The nylon surface has been in use in the Astrodome's infield all season.

Most of the outfielders didn't think the fake grass would make much difference. But left fielder Tony Gonzales of Philadelphia didn't like it.

"The ball bounces like a rubber ball," he said. "You can't hold your footing. It's hard to stop when you charge the ball. They should have left it like it was."

Vernon Upsets Kamloops 5-2

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Vernon upset league-leading Kamloops 5-2 in an Okanagan Mainline Baseball League game here Tuesday night.

Vernon, in the league's last spot, took the win with three runs in the first inning and two in the fifth. Russ Keckalo's three-run homer over the centre field fence was the key to victory.

Rene Vachon singled to left field to drive in two more in the fifth. Gary Dickson started for Vernon and took the win, though he needed help from Reg Main in the sixth inning.

Al Simmons took the loss despite a 17-strikeout performance. Vernon 300 020 000-5 5 0 Kamloops 011 000 000-2 4 0 Main, Dickson (6) and Nuyens; Simmons and Kato. HR—Keckalo.

Mounties Split Doubleheader Front Running Seattle Loses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three pace-setting baseball teams in the Pacific Coast League all were tripped Tuesday night, but one popped back with quick revenge.

After falling 2-1 in a one-hitter pitched by Vancouver's Jim Dickson, Indianapolis beat the Mounties 7-5 in a nightcap of 24 hits.

Tulsa lost 4-1 to Oklahoma City, which reached up 22 games from last place to tag the Oilers and leave them in a tie with Indianapolis for the eastern division lead.

Phoenix crushed Seattle 10-0 as Don Larsen scattered six Seattle hits through the nine innings.

In other PCL action, Denver blanked San Diego 6-4, and Hawaii split their doubleheader with Portland, winning the opener 4-0 and losing the nightcap 5-4.

A disputed home run by Jim Hughes in the final inning of a seven-inning game gave Vancouver the opener against Indianapolis. Indianapolis said the ball was foul.

In the nine-inning second game, the Indians rapped four Mountie pitchers for 14 hits while Vancouver collected 10.

Tulsa scored its only run against Oklahoma City in the first inning. Oklahoma City's John Anderson pitched the final six scoreless innings in relief as his teammates built the winning score, going ahead in the fourth on singles by Mike Sinerud, Leon McFadden and John Anderson.

Phoenix poured out 15 hits, including a three-run homer by Ollie Brown, to whip Seattle.

Home runs by Jim Jenkins and Larry Osborne supported Whitby's pitching as Denver defeated San Diego. Whitby let no more than one Padre reach base in any inning.

Tacoma scored the winning run in the top of the 11th against Spokane on a triple by Bob Raudman and a single by Harry Bright.

George Banks blasted a ninth inning homer, giving Portland their nightcap win over Hawaii, who won the opener on a four-hitter by Buster Narum.

BRITISH STRONG IN TRACK, FIELD English, Aussies B.E.G. Favorites

LONDON (CP)—England expects to be Australia's closest competitor at the Empire and Commonwealth Games, but there isn't exactly unbounded enthusiasm about the overall prospects of the team when the Games open Aug. 4 in Kingston, Jamaica.

"We'll have what I guess you could call a very good average team," was the somewhat baffling assessment Tuesday from Richard Hinks, a long-time Games official and England's general team manager in Kingston.

As expected, much of the interest in England's chances is on track and field.

Melvin Watman, a member of the National Union of Track Statisticians, thinks England has a "good solid team" for track and field, "strong in the middle and long distance events, but with poorer chances in the sprints and field events." But another observer, who asked for anonymity, commented: "There's a general feeling that the team has been somewhat disappointing in its performance as a whole this year. Somehow, there's not enough of the devil in it—not enough competitive spirit or fight. It's certainly not as powerful as the team we sent to the (1964) Tokyo Olympics."

England is sending about 160 athletes to Kingston, including 60 track and field competitors and nearly 40 swimmers.

About 20 of the track competitors leave Thursday for Los Angeles for an international meet there this weekend, but the bulk will be going directly to Jamaica in chartered aircraft, beginning with a flight Saturday.

Travelling with England's team, but competing separately, will be 60 athletes from Scotland, nearly 50 from Wales, more than 20 from Northern Ireland, 12 from the Isle of Man and six from the Channel Islands of Jersey.

Hinks said, "It's usually a fight between England and Australia in these Games, although this year I have a feeling a lot of the other countries are going to be picking off individual prizes."

England was runner-up to the best Australian team in the 1962 Commonwealth Games at Perth, ending up with 29 gold medals and a total of 78 medals in all, compared with Australia's 38 golds and 105 total medals.

HIGH ON SWIMMERS

Running through England's prospects team by team, Hinks thought the England-Australia rivalry might be equal in track and field. In Swimming, "England has got a really good chance, I think, especially with our girls."

He rated the possibilities as "very good" in weightlifting. There was no one really outstanding for England in wrestling and boxing was an unknown quantity "because you never know what will happen."

But England "definitely has got some good people" for the newly inaugurated shooting events and the women's badminton team had strong prospects.

England usually did well in fencing and cycling and hoped this year to maintain past standards.

"I feel confident we'll put up a very good show. Overall, it's a very young team and we're certainly hoping to do well."

NEWSMEN CAPTURE CHALLENGE BOX RACE

The largest crowd of this season's Aquacade was attracted to Ogopogo Stadium Tuesday night for a challenge apple box race between the radio station and The Courier. Led by reporter Alje Kamminga, the Courier crew won the race and next Tuesday will face a challenge from the television station. About 400 people watched the Aquacade, a regular Tuesday night aquatic attraction during the summer.

Many Reasons Pushing Top Stars To PGA Open

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Professional Golfers' Association golden anniversary tournament begins Thursday with the game's top stars harboring various reasons for wanting to win the final major championship of 1966.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Billy Casper,

Doug Sanders and Dave Marr are among those who have an axe to grind in the 72-hole battle at the Firestone Country Club's 7,180-yard par 35-35-70 layout.

If Nicklaus tacks the PGA to his Master's and British Open victories, he'll become the first player to win three major titles since Ben Hogan won the Masters, the British and the United States Open and then didn't compete in the 1953 PGA.

Palmer still is somewhat shocked from his big blowup loss to Casper in this year's Open and a triumph would tilt Arnie's somewhat tarnished image.

PLAYER IN SLUMP

Player, the 1965 Golfer of the Year, has done virtually nothing this year in the way of winning. The diminutive South African was one of the first professionals to appear at Firestone and has been practising diligently since last Friday in an effort to shape up his game.

Casper has been the steadiest golfer on tour this year and could all but wrap up 1966 honors by stringing the PGA title to his recent U.S. Open and Western Open triumphs.

Sanders usually is in the running, but never has won a major championship, although he came close in the British Open when he finished two strokes behind Nicklaus.

Marr's story has become a sad one, in that he has been completely overlooked despite the fact he is defending the title he won at Ligonier last year.

In the field of 165 is George Knudson of Toronto, who will tour the course the first round in a threesome that includes Palmer.

The tournament ends Sunday. In case of a tie, there will be an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Track Athletes Off To Regina

Thirty-four of the Okanagan's finest athletes departed for Regina today for the Western Canadian Age Class Track and Field championships.

Selection of the athletes was made by coaches from all the cities involved in the Okanagan Track and Field Club, recently, in Lumby. Athletes were chosen on the basis of their performances and meeting club standards. The cost of the trip is being underwritten wholly by the OTFC, parents of the competitors and the divisions of the club.

Many of the Okanagan athletes have excellent chances at winning their specialty. Ivars Dravinskis, holder of two Canadian midget boys' records, has the best chance to bring the club some glory. The other Canadian record holder in the club, Wilma Vander Wilk of Lumby will also be making the Regina trip for the club. Wilma set her record three weeks ago in the midget women's discus.

Other athletes from Kelowna making the trip include: Allan Larson, Gary Bassett, Muriel Neale, Elizabeth Knox, Sue Marzink, Wayne Taiji, Ken Wilson, Kathy Langham, Linda Schaumleffel, Linda White, Joyce Howarth, Helgi Westenberg, Brock Aynsley, Mark Gingel, Linda Manarin and Dennis Gatzke.

The next meet the club will attend is the Legion zone meet in Vernon July 30. Then just two weeks later the athletes travel to New Westminster for the B.C. Age Class championships. The final meet of the year will be the Canadian Age Class championships in Richmond Aug. 27.

OMBL Shuffles Schedule After Stars Withdrawal

The sudden withdrawal of North Kamloops from the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League has forced a revision of the remaining OMBL schedule.

All teams who had games remaining with North Kamloops were given wins in the standings. This system boosted Kelowna Labatts into third place, one game ahead of Vernon. It also gave Penticton a one-game lead over Kamloops Lelands in first place.

The remaining schedule follows:
July 19—Vernon at Kamloops
21—Kamloops at Kelowna
23—Kelowna at Kamloops

24—Penticton at Vernon
28—Vernon at Kelowna
30—Kamloops at Penticton
31—Kelowna at Vernon.

The OMBL also released starting dates for the semi-final series which match the first and third place teams and the second and fourth place teams. The first game between the first and third place teams will take place in the city of the first place team, Aug. 3. The series reverts to the third place city Aug. 6. The opening game of the second series will be played Aug. 4 at the home of the second place team. The series reverts to the fourth place city Aug. 7. All semi-finals and finals are best-of-five-game affairs.

CARDS PURCHASE PICNIC
ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals of the National League purchased pitcher Ron Piche from Tulsa Tuesday and optioned veteran right-hander Art Mahaffey to the Pacific Coast League club on 24-hour recall basis.

Tickets for the game went on sale Monday and sales are reported to be brisk. All seats are reserved, are $2.50 and can be picked up at Wigwam gift shop.

Marshall is joining the likes of Bobby Hull, Eddie Shaeffer, Andy Hebenton, Gerry Goyer and Billy McNeill for one summer game which is dedicated to the memory of Bob Giordano.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By RON HOLLAND

Mixed feelings dominate many people's minds about unlimited hydroplane racing.

In spite of what some people may think Kelowna did become a major league city with the staging of the British Columbia Cup. Just as Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York and Chicago are major league baseball cities and Toronto, Boston and Montreal are major league hockey cities, Kelowna is a major league hydroplane city.

On the 1966 tour there are nine other cities hosting unlimited races. When one thinks for a moment there should be tremendous pride that Kelowna is one of 10 cities in the world to have such a race. This is pretty good for a city of 18,000 tucked away in the Okanagan Valley.

Organizers of the British Columbia Cup race received congratulations from all hydro people in Kelowna for the five-day spectacle. Drivers were extremely impressed with the pit facilities and the general conditions of the lake. Owners and pit crews were amazed at the discipline around the pit area. Everyone connected with the thunderboats was impressed with the hospitality accorded them by the Canadian people.

Competitively the race was a success. Sunday's first heat was considered one of the finest races on the tour thus far in the 1966 season, by most of the hydroplane drivers. The rest of the races gave spectators almost everything an unlimited race is expected to give. There was almost an accident on the south corner when Bill Muncey wheeled $ Bill into the turn. There was the circumstance of three boats crossing the starting line too soon and having to go an extra lap around the 2.5 mile course.

For officials of hydroplaning the race was a huge success.

But what about those people who paid their money to watch the races.

Someone, no one knows who, goofed when it came to informing the public as to what was happening and why.

The mess that came about on Wednesday and Thursday left most of the public looking warily upon the organizers. After all who wants to sit for hours in blazing sun and watch nothing happen.

Friday with the appearance of more boats on the scene there was more action but still not enough to suit the spectators. The same for Saturday.

Poor weather hit the race officials hard, when it delayed the races for more than four hours on Sunday. But who, in all honesty, can blame race officials, drivers, owners or anyone for the poor weather. Which would have been best. To race and run the risk of killing a driver or to wait for better water conditions. There is only one answer.

Financially, the race did not appear to be an overwhelming success nor a disastrous flop. Crowds at the Ogopogo Stadium were estimated to be 2,000 on Sunday. Other paying customers were few and far between. Next year, if there is a British Columbia Cup race, some better way of taxing the public will have to be found.

The most important job now lying before the Kelowna Boat Racing Association is the restoration of people's faith in unlimited racing.

The unforeseen circumstances of having thousands of people ready to watch heats during the first four days of the race will have to be clarified. These are the people who want and deserve an explanation. The sooner the better.

Personally I hope to see the hydros come back to Kelowna for years and years to come. The sport is thrilling. People connected with hydroplane racing are some of the best.

Let's hope these same thunderboats will be back.

BERT MARSHALL

Okanagan's Own Coming For Midsummer Spectacle

The Okanagan's prize contribution to the National Hockey League will be donning the skates Aug. 6 for the Midsummer Hockey spectacular.

Bert Marshall, who performed in last year's classic, is the rock-ribbed, hard-nosed defenceman for Detroit Red Wings. In his rookie year, Bert finished close to the top in voting for some of the slack caused by the career-ending eye injury to Doug Barkley. During the regular season, Bert didn't manage to score any goals but he assisted on 19 and spent 45 minutes in the penalty box.

Marshall is joining the likes of Bobby Hull, Eddie Shaeffer, Andy Hebenton, Gerry Goyer and Billy McNeill for one summer game which is dedicated to the memory of Bob Giordano.

"Tickets for the game went on sale Monday and sales are reported to be brisk. All seats are reserved, are $2.50 and can be picked up at Wigwam gift shop."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Every day the code letters are different.

Accused Mine Company Pair Both Deny Charges Of Fraud

TORONTO (CP) — George MacMillan, president of Windfall Oils and Mines Ltd., and his wife, Viola, both entered pleas of not guilty to their preliminary hearing on fraud charges today.

They are charged with defrauding the public and fraudulently affecting the market price of Windfall shares between May and July, 1964. Both elected trial by judge and jury.

Crown Prosecutor Roderick Cormack told the hearing he expected witnesses testimony to be similar to what they said at the royal commission inquiry into the rise and collapse of Windfall shares.

Outlining the prosecution's case to Magistrate Joseph Addison, Mr. Cormack said that two years ago Mrs. MacMillan was interviewed on a CBS television show during which she called Windfall her most recent successful strike.

Mr. Cormack said she made this statement before any Windfall drilling had been done.

Argentine Parks Not Lovers' Lanes

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — Police here are out to stop kissing in Argentine parks. A new decree orders arrests and fines for couples making a "public display of intimacy at variance with the most elementary sense of modesty."

LIVING COSTS FALL

The consumer price index in Norway fell 0.1 to 125.3 (based on 1959 prices) in May this year.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	1♦	Dble
Pass	Pass	Redble	1NT
Pass	2♥	3♦	Pass
3NT

Opening lead—two of hearts.

Here is an unusual hand played in the Spingold some years ago. The bidding was weird for a while, but South eventually wound up in the reasonable contract of three no-trump.

West led a heart and South took the jack with the ace. Declarer then cashed the ace of spades, East discarding a club, and continued with a spade, taken in dummy with the seven. East discarding another club. A diamond to the king was followed by a third round of spades which West took with the king as East discarded still another club. At this point, West played the king and another heart, the position being:

West

It would seem that South must now go down if East wins the six of hearts with the queen and plays another trick. The defense would apparently score a spade, three hearts and a club to defeat the contract one trick.

However, this analysis is not quite accurate. West would be forced to discard a club on the fourth round of hearts and he could then be put into the lead on the fourth round of diamonds to compel a spade return into the Q-10. On this line of play South would wind up with nine tricks.

East (Alfred Sheinwald, Los Angeles star) foresaw the danger and overcame it by permitting declarer to win the six of hearts. This highly alert play eliminated the potential squeeze at an endplay, and South wound up going down one.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Business and financial matters continue to be governed by generous influences. Just one admonition, however: Don't even consider monetary transactions with strangers in the late P.M. It is always advisable to be cautious of such involvements, but some unusually dubious offerings could be presented on Thursday evening.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, within ten days, many pressures of the past—in both your personal and business life—should lift, and that you may then feel more encouraged than you have in some time to expand your interests. This will be entirely feasible, if you operate conservatively. Some small, but good "breaks" in financial matters during the first two weeks of August should give you morale a boost, but a really propitious period along these lines is indicated between mid-September and mid-November. A child born on this day will be followed by other good cycles for fiscal advancement in early December, next February, April and June. It will be important, however, to avoid undue extravagance and any kind of speculation for the next 12 months—but especially during the first two weeks of September and the last two weeks in December. Best periods for job advancement: Late September, early December, next January, March and May.

Both your sentimental interests and your social life should prove most stimulating during the year ahead—especially between now and September 15th, and between mid-November and December 31st. Next good periods along these lines: April, May and June, of next year. If you tend toward obstinacy with those in close circles, you should find most personal relationships unusually harmonious. Most propitious periods for journeys of any length will not occur until 1967, with outstanding months including January, May and June. Short trips taken before, early December, prove highly enjoyable, however.

A child born on this day will be hypersensitive, emotional and in early December, next February, April and June, it will be important, however, to avoid undue extravagance and any kind of speculation for the next 12 months—but especially during the first two weeks of September and the last two weeks in December. Best periods for job advancement: Late September, early December, next January, March and May.

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

SMOKERS, cheer up! Pointed out William Makepeace Thackeray, "The pipe draws wisdom from the lips of the philosopher and shuts up the mouth of the foolish." Added Arnold Bennett, "It is better to be without a wife for a week than without tobacco for an hour." And admitted Lin Yutang, "I am always ill at ease when I enter a house in which there are no ash trays. Immediately I am put on my best behavior, which means the same thing as the most uncomfortable behavior."

Grandma had already extended her unannounced visit for three weeks, and her daughter-in-law and son were slowly going crazy. Finally they concocted a scheme; they would take a fight and the one with whom she sided would later tell her the other was so insulted that she'd simply have to leave.

So that night the wife deliberately spilled a plate of hot soup down her husband's neck. "You're the clumsiest, ugliest, stupidest clunk I've ever seen," roared the husband. "And you," shot back the wife, "are the laziest, demandingest, meanest rat in the world. What do you say, Grandma?"

"I'm not saying a word," replied Grandma cheerfully. "I'm staying two more months."

Shortly after a new oil field was opened in Crockett County, Texas, a grizzled native, reports Allan Bosworth, received a royalty check for $250,000 and exclaimed angrily, "Oh, no! This puts me in another income-tax bracket!"

Soviet Foreigners Fear Pyromaniac

MOSCOW (CP) - Jittery tenants of an apartment block occupied by foreigners fear there may be a pyromaniac loose in their midst.

Culminating a long series of small fires in the hallways and stairways of the 12 - storey apartment building, a serious blaze occurred around noon hour one day recently on the seventh floor.

The blaze left a pile of rubble from fallen plaster and scorched walls and ceiling on one side of the elevator shaft. It did not get into any apartments.

The fire is believed to have started in some wooden boxes placed on the landing by seventh-floor tenants.

The building superintendent said a cigarette butt started the fire, but he would have a tough time selling that line to residents of the block. The tendency among residents was to blame children playing with matches.

A smaller blaze only about two floors away, this one among a pile of discarded papers, occurred several months ago. The most recent fire caused deep concern among many of the people from at least a score of countries - diplomats, correspondents and businessmen - who inhabit the 300-apartment block.

Heavy black smoke rolled up the elevator well to the top-most floors of the grey brick building.

Firemen were called and doused the flames. Fire has caused recurrent anxiety among occupants of the building. Telltale cinders from burned papers can often be seen in the lobby and on staircases.

Most of the tenants contribute to the danger themselves by placing boxes and papers on the landings, expecting the "ladies" charged with keeping the building tidy to carry them away.

But often, mischievous children get their first.

Not long ago, a section of wooden fence near the building was burned down. Word went around that a six-year-old foreign boy was responsible.

There is no fire-fighting equipment in the building that tenants can readily get at in case of emergency. Fire escapes are few, and inaccessible for the majority of occupants.

of 500,000 of Northern Ireland's 900,000 Protestants.

The summonses arose out of disturbances outside the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland at Belfast June 6.

There was a police guard at the entrances to the court building but unlike Monday, when large crowds thronged the street outside all day, only a handful of people were waiting today.

Coast Forest Industry Not Yet Out Of Woods

VANCOUVER (CP) - Unions representing thousands of workers are approaching the signing stage in contract disputes with employers, but the rich British Columbia coastal forest industry isn't out of the labor woods yet. While pulp, paper, woods and lumber workers are at the stage of crossing the t's and dotting the i's of contracts, a small group of lumber inspectors have set a strike deadline. The strike could tie up 80 per cent of the coastal woodworking industry. Some of the same companies, already tied up once this year in a wildcat strike of some members of the International Brotherhood of America (IWA) are involved in three labor disputes. The IWA met with company representatives today to iron out the last wrinkles in a contract the base of which is a 40-cent-an-hour increase in a two-year contract for 32,000 coastal woodworkers. The increase was suggested in a report by Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz, acting as a provincial industrial inquiry commissioner. The same increase was accepted by the pulp and paper industry and three unions. Exceptions were two Prince George locals of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (I.C.L.C.). Meanwhile, a small IWA local representing lumber inspectors has set an Aug. 16 strike deadline in its wage dispute with the industry. Jack MacKenzie, IWA region vice-president, said today union and company negotiators were expected to complete discussions of the Nemetz formula and report back in a matter of hours. "An announcement could come any time after that," he said. Mr. MacKenzie said the biggest point in discussions has been what work categories will be upgraded, as suggested by the Nemetz report. Forty per cent of the union members are to be affected by the job re-evaluation. Three different unions representing pulp and paper workers voted 91, 85 and 60 per cent in favor of accepting proposals by George Carmichael, a conciliation officer. The unions and Pulp and Paper Industrial Relations Bureau, which negotiates for nine companies, informed Labor Minister Peterson on Monday they will accept the new contract. Jim Terry, international representative for the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (I.C.L.C.), is in Prince George discussing the rejection of the proposal with officials of the two locals. The 271 lumber inspectors are asking for a 50-cent hourly increase on a present base rate of $3.12 an hour in a one-year contract. The inspectors also want an assurance from the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau that its grade stamp will not be leased to individual companies. The bureau agreed to this point two years ago but the union claims it refuses to renew a letter of understanding in effect in the old contract. Rod Beaton, local president, said negotiators were to meet today with representatives of Forest Industrial Relations, which bargains for the bureau. DINGHY TIPPED VANCOUVER (CP) - Forty-six-year-old Russ Apps and his son Lorin, 9, spent two chilly hours Tuesday in the waters outside Vancouver harbor after their small sail boat was tipped by a gust of wind. They were finally rescued by a pleasure cruiser. CLINIC TO START CHILLIWACK (CP) - Health Minister Eric Martin said Tuesday the new regional mental health clinic here is expected to be operating by fall. Mr. Martin announced the appointment of Dr. W. G. Jilek of Montreal as psychiatrist at the clinic. He was recruited by November. SETS FIRE VANCOUVER (CP) - A thief apparently set fire to an office building in the city Tuesday after a safe-cracking job netted him only $20. The fire was discovered by the printing plant owner and was extinguished by firemen before it caused serious damage.

AROUND B.C. IN BRIEF

Pentiction Council Favors $2 Million Water Project

PENTICTON (CP) - City council has approved awarding two contracts worth a total of $2,273,000 for construction of a new city water system. Ashe Trucking Ltd. of Surrey had low bid of $1,298,000 for a storage dam, while McEachern Construction Ltd. of Vancouver was awarded the contract for a diversion tunnel and intake dam with a bid of $775,000.

WILD GAME OUT VICTORIA (CP) - The provincial government has turned down a request from B.C. professional chefs to bag wild game and fowl for special centennial dishes. The chefs had hoped to include on their centennial menus such meat as caribou, elk, moose and bear, but hunting of the animals is restricted under conservation laws.

CHARGES DROPPED VANCOUVER (CP) - Charges of stealing liquor from a Liquor Control Board warehouse against Herbert George McDonald, 49, were dropped here by the Crown. Dredge Drummond Leiser, 24, was given a two-year suspended sentence several weeks ago when he pleaded guilty to the June 11 theft.

BODY IDENTIFIED VANCOUVER (CP) - The body of a woman found in English Bay Tuesday has been identified as Mrs. Mary A. Roberge, 65, of Burnaby. Robert Brown told police he discovered the body while walking on the beach.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS VANCOUVER (CP) - The National Employment Service reported Monday that 5,000 fewer persons were looking for work last month compared to May. No specific figures were released, but an N.E.S. spokesman said there was more employment in the fishing and mining industries than had been anticipated.

GROWTH ANTICIPATED VANCOUVER (CP) - Downtown and West End development is expected to total close to $400,000,000 in the next 10 years - almost three times the amount spent in the last decade. The figure, which includes private and public spending, is based on City Hall surveys released Monday.

CHILLIWACK (CP) - Health Minister Eric Martin said Tuesday the new regional mental health clinic here is expected to be operating by fall. Mr. Martin announced the appointment of Dr. W. G. Jilek of Montreal as psychiatrist at the clinic. He was recruited by November.

SETS FIRE VANCOUVER (CP) - A thief apparently set fire to an office building in the city Tuesday after a safe-cracking job netted him only $20. The fire was discovered by the printing plant owner and was extinguished by firemen before it caused serious damage.

When The Monsoon Failed All Of India Was Panicky

NEW DELHI (AP) - Women dressed as men in central India and trudged out to plow dusty fields beneath a blazing sun.

In the city of Ghopal, Hindus and Moslems, forgetting tensions between them, offered special prayers. In New Delhi, shock spread through Prime Minister Gandhi's government.

The annual monsoon rains, which began normally in early June, were failing. And in rural villages there was fear that another scorching drought would beget worse.

The women reverted to ancient superstitions, hoping to appease their rain gods with offerings in men's clothing. It did little good.

In the first half of July, conflicting wind currents deflected the monsoon which normally sweeps up the subcontinent from the south with great sheets of cooling, life-giving rain. Skies cleared and temperatures rose to 107 or more.

India last year endured the worst drought in a century. The exact picture this year will not be known for several months. Correspondents reported this picture:

Bylaws Change Police Image

OTTAWA (CP) - Gordon Stewart, who retired July 1 as deputy chief after 41 years with the Ottawa police force, says restrictive bylaws have changed the public's attitude toward policemen.

In the "early days" police used to help people, he says. Now, with restrictive bylaws such as parking regulations, the policeman represents "you can't do this, you can't do that" to the public.

"It's only human nature to resent a restrictive bylaw and the police, by enforcing these laws, carry the burden of this resentment," he said.

But Mr. Stewart emphasizes he has no axe to grind. "I've been wonderfully treated."

A week of reading city bylaws was all the training he received as a police officer in 1925.

"Now a constable undergoes six to eight weeks of training before he goes on the street."

LaMarsh Tours 'Downunder'

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters) - Secretary of State Judy LaMarsh of Canada met with Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand today as her goodwill tour of New Zealand and Australia went into its third day.

It was not announced what topics were discussed during the talks, but Miss LaMarsh said earlier she is interested in broadcasts of sessions of the New Zealand Parliament.
